Ky Government Troops Arrive In Stronghold Northern City

SAIGON (AP) — South Viet Nam followers to allow the troops to (AP) — Buddhist militants move through the city Wednesday morning by temporarily removing Buddhist household altars they had placed in the streets as a new form of anti-military regime excluded its chief Buddhist critics from the government protest.

Three battalions of government troops arrived outside the northern Buddhist citadel of Hue but their officers said they were on route to an operation against the Communists and would make no attempt to seize the city.

A report from Hue said the militant Buddhist leader Thich Thi Quang had instructed his

Students Riot In Panama; Guards Kill 2

Schools Closed Indefinitely After Protest by 1,000

PANAMA (AP) — Student speakers at the University of Panama called Monday night for a street guerrilla campaign against the Panamanian national guard after two students were killed in eight hours of disorders in Colon and Panama.

Guardsmen penned more than 1,000 protesting students into the campus and drove them back with tear gas when they tried to break out.

President Marco A. Robles closed all high schools in Colon and Panama indefinitely, but the Panamanian university was not affected.

Forty-nine persons, including nine students, were injured and at least 42 were arrested in Colon. Panama is second city at the Caribbean end of the Panama Canal.

Fighter Arrested
Among the arrested was a former world lightweight boxing champion. Local agents' officials said he was seized while firing an automatic pistol at a hotel guard.

The trouble flared in Colon when student demonstrators in front of the National Department of Investigations to protest the unsolved killing of ultra-left student leader Juan Vasquez Pajaro. The students charged the department's agents killed him. He was found dead from a blow on the skull by a road side near Colon a week ago shortly after he returned from medical treatment in Moscow.

The government has denied its agents were responsible and said an investigation has yielded no leads.

Dairy Farmers Ask 45-Cent Hike In Milk Prices

DEANER, Colo. (AP) — Dairy farmers from 15 states asked the Department of Agriculture Monday for a 45-cent per 100-pound increase in the price they receive for milk.

Such an increase would amount to one cent a quart. The request would apply to milk used for fluid milk products including milk, skim milk and cream from July 1 through Dec. 31.

Similar hearings will be conducted in St. Louis, Washington and Cleveland before action taken.

The 15 states involved in the Denver hearing were Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Washington, New Mexico, Texas and Arizona.

Milk dealers took the position that an increase is warranted in some markets, but argued that each market should be considered separately.

Meredith Shot, Vows To Complete March

Statement Issued at Hospital

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James H. Meredith, whose civil rights march through Mississippi was stopped by a sniper, vowed today that "I shall return and we shall arrive in Jackson."

The Negro who was the first known member of his race to enter the University of Mississippi at nearby Oxford four years ago made the statement to newsmen through a Negro lawyer here. Meredith is recuperating from superficial shotgun wounds, did not actually meet with newsmen.

Dick Gregory, the Negro comedian who arrived from Chicago early today to take up where Meredith left off, when he was killed Monday near Hernando, Miss., visited the news conference briefly — but said nothing.

Memphis Lawyer
Meredith's handwritten statement was read by A.W. Willis, a Memphis lawyer who has represented Meredith for years.

In his statement, Meredith said he hopes the significance of the early stage of his march — to drum up more registered Negro voters in Mississippi — was not lost when he was ambushed.

The significance, Meredith said, was in his reception by Negro residents of Hernando, the only town of any size which he passed through before he was shot. Hernando is about 20 miles south of Memphis.

Hundreds of Negroes lined the streets to greet him, he said. Most of these Negroes were men. The day for the Negro.

Mrs. Meredith Wants Mate Home

NEW YORK (AP) — I want to go home, said Mrs. James H. Meredith. I want to see my children.

Close friends of the Merediths said their apartment near Columbia University was police cordoned outside and curfew neighbors peered in the lobby Monday night.

Mrs. Meredith, 28, had heard her husband tell her by phone that he was all right.

Except for being a little stiff, she said from his hospital bed in Memphis, "I feel as well as I ever did."

But he added, "Don't try to make a vacation yet. They haven't got all the buckshot out of me."

James Meredith Is Lifted onto a stretcher after he was shot during the second day of his march to Jackson.

Miss At Left is the Rev. Robert Weeks of Monroe, N.Y., who was accompanying Meredith on the 225-mile hike.

Committee to Set Criteria

Legislators Want Say in New Vocational School Districts

MADISON — The Legislature board and the CCHB meet Monday to set criteria for the new vocational school districts. The State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education May 24 and 25 approved the recommendations for establishing 15 districts in the state.

However, the three-man advisory committee did not recommend what areas should fall into what districts. The committee was made up of one member of the State Board, one member of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHB) and the State Department of Administration.

C. I. Greber, state director of vocational education, predicted that area to be included in the 15 districts may be settled by June 1, 1966, when the vocational school districts are created.

Martin said today the intent of the resolution is to have the Legislature indicate to the vocational board and the CCHB that it will have a voice in the development of the criteria.

Fringe Districts
This resolution does not have the force of law to end the work of the CCHB and state board school supported by an American firm and one run by the Catholic Church in Jakarta was not spelled out.

Indonesia Closes Foreign Schools

JAKARTA (Indonesia) (AP) — The Indonesian Education Ministry announced today that all non-Indonesian schools, except those for embassy children, would be closed.

The move is primarily aimed at Chinese schools. By the state of the large international of the CCHB and state board school supported by an American firm and one run by the Catholic Church in Jakarta was not spelled out.

'Second Only to Batman'

IRS Fights Corn With Corn

Internal Revenue Service in a move to publicize its clack down on moonshiners, has come up with a radio program which an IRS memo boasted would "brainwash the citizenry" and be second only to Batman.

With this disclosure today, it appeared Uncle Sam's tax collectors were trying to fight corn with what the memo admitted might be considered corn.

But Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., isn't amused.

As one reads the memo he feels he is reading from a script of the make-believe television world of Batman, he said in a speech prepared for the Senate today.

Joseph S. Rosapepe, IRS information director, said in a May 27 letter to Long's Administrative Procedure Subcommittee that the memo describing the radio program was withdrawn, is no longer an official instruction, and does not represent the policy or the attitude of the IRS.

Long apparently isn't satisfied with Rosapepe's letter. He said he is calling the IRS official before the subcommittee Wednesday for an explanation.

In his letter to the subcommittee, Rosapepe indicated the memo was for informational use only. He referred the subcommittee's request for the name of the memo's author, identifying him only as a young employee of the Atlanta regional office who "lacked judgment in his choice of words."

Better Image
The memo apparently was drafted in an attempt to help agents of the IRS Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division — known as stillbusters and rewinners in moonshine country — improve their image. The publicity campaign was to go hand in hand with a crackdown known as Operation Dry Up, it said.

The memo gave hints on how agents can promote the radio programs, which it said are not only entertaining but are used to "brainwash the citizenry" and to escalate the image of A&T special investigators.

It also advised agents that you must impress of the program will be that it is corny and over-dramatic. Experts have evaluated the program and they tell us that it is of excellent quality, and does the job it was originated to do. We stand second only to Batman.

Big Egos
In dealing with the press, the memo said, a great number of the people engaged in the profession of news writing are of old make-up. The majority are individuals with egos that need to be pumped up each time they do a job for an organization, it added. The media personnel are usually hams and delight in making a public appearance receiving applause and recognition.

Thus, the memo urged its personnel to give a pat on the back to people in the news business who have helped the alcohol tax agents.

White Man Held After Shooting

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith lay swathed in bandages in a hospital today, while other Negro leaders rush in to take up his march through Mississippi.

Meredith, 33, a key figure in the violent annals of Mississippi's civil rights movement, was cut down by a man with a shotgun Monday.

A white man was arrested immediately after the shooting. Meredith was taken to a hospital in Memphis, about 25 miles north of Hernando. His condition was listed as good. He was hit in the back and in the legs with birdshot.

The shooting stirred sharp reaction. President Johnson described it as an "awful act of violence." There were angry speeches on Harlem street corners, but calls for calm and reason also were heard.

Keep Heads
"We shouldn't allow ourselves to lose our heads," said black nationalist Edward Davis.

The shooting happened as the slender former Air Force sergeant who cracked the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962 strode jauntily along U.S. 51 wearing a pith helmet, green sports shirt and slacks.

He was walking from Memphis to Jackson, Miss., on the assumption that if he could do it safely it would prove to Mississippi Negroes that they had nothing to fear in registering to vote.

A witness, Claude Sterrett, 24, of New York, said the gunman, apparently uncertain of his target, stepped from a wooded area and shouted "Meredith! James Meredith! I only want Meredith! Then he fired."

Norvell Arrested
Sheriff W. L. Meredith arrested Aubrey James Norvell, 41, of Memphis, a husky, balding unemployed hardware contractor. He was seized a few minutes after the shooting.

Gov. Paul Johnson said Norvell admitted the shooting. No motive was given.

Charles C. Finch of Sardis, prosecuting attorney, declined to say whether a charge had been filed but said it probably would.

End Apartheid, Kennedy Urges South Africans

STELLENBOSCH, South Africa (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy pressed anew today his appeal for South African students to meet with him at Stellenbosch University, a citadel of South Africa's apartheid (racial segregation) policies.

Monday the visiting New York Democrat urged students at Cape Town University to work for an end to their government's racial segregation policies and strip the last remnants of that ancient cruel belief from the civilization of man.

Wisconsin Man Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pfc. Jerome Litke, of Milwaukee, has been killed in action in Viet Nam, the Defense Department said Monday.

Vatican Commission On Birth Control to Report After June 26

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that the Roman Catholic Commission on Birth Control would turn its recommendations over to Pope Paul VI after June 26.

There was no indication when the Pope would issue his long-awaited pronouncement that will either modify or continue the Church's ban against artificial methods of contraception. Vatican sources said Sunday that if the commission did not submit a clear recommendation to the pontiff by the end of June, he would probably study the question all summer.

The announcement said specialists on the commission would complete their work by Wednesday, leaving only a final review by the commission's directing board of 16 cardinals and bishops.

Headed for Cuba

73 Dead in Wake Of Hurricane Alma

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Alma, a freakish early season killer with 73 dead in its wet wake, forced evacuation of two cities today as the 90-mile wind crawled slowly toward the Isle of Pines and the Cuban coast.

Because the forces affecting the movement of the hurricane were in balance, forecasters were unwilling to plot a course beyond the next 24 hours or to predict whether south Florida will be hit.

The Honduran Weather Service said that Sunday night before Alma developed into a tropical storm, its torrential rains wiped out the town of San Rafael in western Honduras, and left 73 dead in a sea of mud.

Toward Cuba
As the storm thrashed toward western Cuba at five miles an hour, Havana radio said 667 inhabitants were evacuated from the port city of Surgidero in Havana Province. Livestock also was moved to higher ground as heavy rain began to fall.

Before reaching Cuba, the hurricane would cross the Isle of Pines, where a big penitentiary is jammed with political prisoners of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Residents of Nueva Girona, biggest town on the Isle of Pines, were being evacuated to safer places. Winds reached gale force there early today.

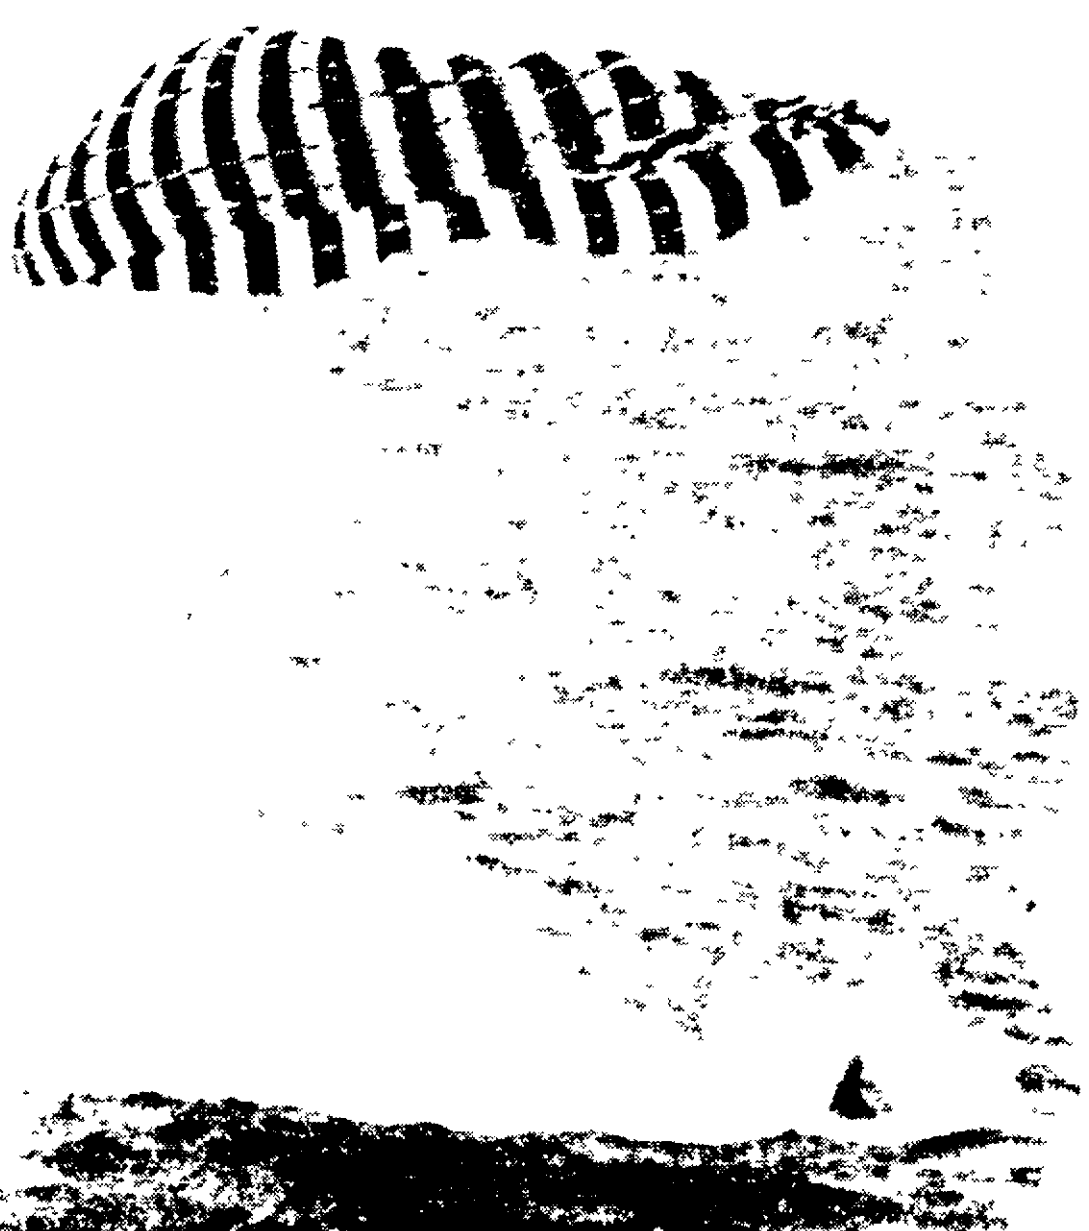

At 8 a.m. EST, Navy hurricane hunter aircraft lofted the storm center about 180 miles south-southwest of Miami and about 110 miles from the Isle of Pines.

Moving North
The storm was moving northward, sending gale winds out 275 miles to the north of the center and 175 miles to the south. It was forecast to continue on this course for 24 hours with little change in size or wind power.

The Cuban Weather Bureau declared a state of emergency.

State Orders Kindergarten Transportation

Some Rural Half Day Programs Fail to Abide by Statutes

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The failure of some school boards to provide transportation service as stated by law is apparently depriving some rural school children of kindergarten, the supervisor of the state school transportation office says.

Theodore Sorensen, of the State Department of Public Instruction, advised local school administrators that state law requires the provision of publicly supported transportation to all pupils who live more than two miles from their classrooms, and that the phrase "all pupils" has been held to include those attending kindergarten classes.

Sorensen speculated that one of the reasons for the hesitation about kindergarten service is the high cost of such transportation in districts where there are half day kindergarten programs, requiring an additional school bus trip to return pupils to their homes at mid-day. Sorensen said in some districts economies can be achieved through better planning of the transportation service.

State Report
 Sorensen, in an annual report of statewide school transportation practices, disclosed that about two-thirds of the school districts are providing half-day programs for kindergarten children. He said the average cost per pupil to carry such children one way is about $71 a year, against an average of $64 for all pupils transported both ways by bus in the state.

The report showed that about 41 per cent of the total public school enrollment of the state is now being carried to class in a tax-supported transportation services, or about 353,000 elementary and high school pupils. The average bus last year carried 62 children daily, over-

State Asks Railroads to Do More to Halt Forest Fires

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Railroad companies are cooperating in reducing the risk of railroad-caused forest fires, but a greater effort in that direction is required for the protection of millions of acres of growing forest, the State Forest Protection Service said today.

The annual report of the division noted that 1965 was the fourth successive year railroads have been listed as the most important source of fire hazards in the state's 17 million acres of protected forest range. Last year the railroad-caused fires numbered 650, or about 42 per cent of all those detected and extinguished by the state's forest rangers.

The Forest Service urged the railroad companies to do more routes averaging 22.5 miles. State aids finance a substantial part of the expenditures involved.

Teen-Agers, Weather Push Up Joblessness

Total Employment Still Increasing More Than Usual

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Bad weather and job-eager teen-agers jumping the gun combined to send the jobless rate up in May. But even that couldn't keep a bustling economy from pushing total employment up—and more than seasonally in some important sectors such as manufacturing payrolls.

Weekly overtime hours also rose in May and so did weekly earnings of factory workers to a record $112.05.

A late spring held down employment in many farming areas. But nonfarm payrolls rose by 573,000 to 63 million. This was 166,000 larger a rise than average for the month. And total employment was up 659,000 to 73.7 million.

Slowed Rate
 These figures hardly spell an end to the business boom. A slowing down in the growth rate from now until fall is expected, but not a decline.

The rush of teen-agers hunting for jobs while still in school upset the seasonal pattern. June is the month when traditionally the number of unemployed rises because of youngsters out of school and looking for work.

To count as unemployed someone still attending classes is a moot decision. And the Bureau of Labor Statistics say it may drop the practice.

But this time the high school pupils and college students said they were looking for jobs before school let out, and they were counted among the unemployed, raising that total by 140,000 to 2,942,000.

This brought the percentage of jobless in the total labor force down to an even 4 per cent, compared with the 3.7 per cent in both February and April, the lowest

The unemployment rate among job seekers 14 to 17 years old rose to 14.7 per cent. Many apparently were inspired by the administration's drive to get businessmen to offer extra summer jobs to the young.

But the jobless rate for all adult men held at 2.4 per cent, and for married men it held at 1.8 per cent.

While the factory work week actually rose in May, the gain was less than average for the time of year. So the seasonally adjusted work week was put at 41.4 hours, off from 41.5 hours in April. Weekly overtime hours did rise as expected and the May figure held at 4.1 hours.

These are the figures that economists watch closely for an indication of what's ahead. Overtime and the factory work week itself may fall in June, partly because of the curbs in auto production and the beginning of the summer dip in steel output.

Perspective on Viet Nam

In the tumble of event after event in Viet Nam, the speech of United Nations Secretary General U Thant to an American national union convention recently may not have received the attention it would have under other circumstances. The secretary general had blunt words for those who expect the rest of the world to accept the anti-communist mission the United States has assigned to the war in Viet Nam or to those who expect somehow that the United Nations will take on the task of bringing about a cease-fire.

"Twenty years of outside intervention and the presence of a succession of foreign armies have so profoundly affected Vietnamese political life that it seems illusory to represent it as a mere contest between communism and liberal democracy," U Thant said. Instead, he suggested, it may be that "the passion for a national identity, perhaps one should say national survival, is the only ideology that may be left to a growing number of Vietnamese."

This being the spoken conclusion of the leader of the United Nations, it is clear that the United States has a long way to go to convince the rest of the non-communist world that the fighting in Viet Nam is necessary to halt the spread of communism to the rest of Southeast Asia and that the United States is fighting to save the people of South Viet Nam from aggression. In fact, the renewal of internal instability in South Viet Nam has made it difficult to use this explanation of the reason for war in South Viet Nam, even to critics in the United States.

The secretary general said the United Nations as now constituted cannot act to bring about negotiations in Viet Nam because the "conflict is beyond its scope." He said, however, that most UN members are willing to participate in measures to bring about negotiations. But, U Thant said, the power to decide lies not in the hands of the United Nations "but in the hands of those who have the power and responsibility to decide," that is, those who are doing the fighting.

As a basis for negotiations, U Thant proposed a return to the Geneva Agreements which divided Viet Nam in the first place and he said peace could come about only after negotiations which included as parties Russia and Red China. As is true for domestic critics of existing American policy, this framework for negotiations is only a statement of what ought to happen and the fact is that North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong have not shown any response to American overtures toward a cease-fire and negotiations.

The Thant speech also contains a warning, perhaps even more pessimistic than the secretary general's conclusion that "the so-called 'fight for democracy' is no longer relevant to the realities of the situation." This warning is that the frustrations of both sides in not being able to bring about a military decision may lead to more risk taking in the name of finishing the job.

"And though the fear of a much larger conflict may still have a restraining influence upon the demands of military strategy, the temptation to win a military success may still prove stronger than the more prudent call to reason," U Thant said.

This is the real danger from the stalemate in Viet Nam that the United States now finds itself with increasing talk of either "winning" the war or pulling out. Further expansion of the war must first include consideration of the risks of becoming involved in a Korea-like conflict with Red China and of the relative worth of Viet Nam and other places of defense against Russia and Red China to the United States.

Police Pay Scales

Police Departments throughout the nation are experiencing a serious recruiting problem. Law enforcement agencies in Outagamie County, Appleton and other Fox Valley cities and counties are facing the pinch.

At least part of the problem has to lie in the low wages being paid beginning policemen — and in some instances, veteran lawmen.

The Fox Valley and immediate surrounding area has a reputation for its high wage scale. But the policeman, today of necessity a professional, is drawing a wage far below par.

Consider for instance Appleton where police officials have turned to small Northern Wisconsin communities in search of recruits. Starting pay for a policeman, who more times than not has a family, is $413 a month. He jumps to $435 after six months. Ceiling for the patrolman is $515.

Or, consider Outagamie County where finding five qualified patrolmen for a recent department expansion proved a real chore. The new patrolmen, four of them with families, are drawing $409 a month. They can look forward to $510 12 years from now under the present plan. They work 48 hours a week.

Winnebago County starts traffic officers at only $400 while in Manitowoc County, a patrolman receives only $4,560 the first year. The traffic chief, on the other hand, can expect $6,630 to start, with a ceiling of $11,050 — $3,930 more than the sheriff earns.

Patrolmen begin duty at $450 a month in Sheboygan County, $441 in Oshkosh (where raises were recently granted), $425 in Manitowoc, and $435 in Green Bay.

Probably the highest starting police wages in the area are in Brown County where the county board May 10 adopted a survey prepared by the State Bureau of Personnel.

Traffic officers start at $475 a month and can work up to $555 in five steps. While an Outagamie County investigator earns a starting wage of $440, base in Brown County is $580.

Another startling contrast is the $580 a beginning Brown County Huber Law officer earns, as against the $370 paid for the same Outagamie post.

The young man who puts on a badge, gun, and uniform does it not for the money. He could earn far more and probably advance faster as a laborer in any major Fox Valley industrial plant.

He does it because he likes the challenges and satisfactions of law enforcement work. The job does not carry with it the dull grind of the factory.

But, if the police recruiting problem is any indication, the factory is winning the tug of war.

Unrest in Nigeria

The military coup in Nigeria which meant the death of several important northern military and political leaders and which replaced the dominance of the northern Hausa tribesmen with southern Ibos has not yet meant peace. Riots have broken out in many northern areas where Ibo tribesmen have settled.

There has always been hatred and suspicion between the areas and the different tribes. The British, of course, kept it generally under control. But once more we have an example of a people, even reasonably well prepared for independence, who pay greater allegiance to their tribes, their regions and their religious denominations than to their nationality. Coalition governments under such conditions are difficult and the result throughout Africa has been one coup after another.

The Hausa tribesmen have been disgruntled for years because the Ibos who moved north generally are better educated and get better jobs. They call them "colonizers" and apparently have a greater dislike for them than they did for the British. The Hausas, who are in the majority Mohammedans, fear they will be lost in a government under the control of the other three regions which have either Christian or tribal religious majorities.

Hundreds have been killed in the riots and demonstrations. One group of Hausas was turned back by police gunfire when it tried to get into the emergency ward of a hospital to finish off the Ibo victims being treated for wounds from previous attacks. And of course the centuries old antagonisms, hatreds and fears were not eased by the massacre of Hausa and other northern leaders by the Ibo rebels who then took over the country.

Bears Troublesome to Settlers

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 16, 1866.

Bears are reported to be very numerous along the upper waters of the two Suamico and the Pensaukee, and are troublesome to the settlers.

A large one was killed about two weeks ago between Big and Little Suamico.

Last weekend a tremendous one entered the yard of a settler one night, only about two miles from Flint's Mill, and undertook to carry off a calf which was confined to a shed, but was unable to break in. He then entered the milk-house, or root cellar, and in lieu of something more solid, proceeded to drink two pans of milk and ate two or three pounds of butter.

There was only a woman in the house, the husband being at work in the mill, and she could do nothing but endeavor to scream at him to frighten him away.

After taking a longing look at the house, with his forepaws on the window sill, he leisurely went off. —Green Bay Advocate.

We Could Help Payments Deficit By Collecting Defaulted Debts

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Down goes our gold again — down and out — while Washington fails to collect billions that Europeans owe us. The Bureau of Internal Revenue slaps you in jail if you don't pay your debt to your government. But if you're a foreigner, ooo-la-la, forget it.

Taylor

Take the case of France. While President Charles de Gaulle treats us like a bulldog treats a tramp we could drive a wedge a mile wide into this ingrate if we just had the gumption to do so. Make him pay France's debts.

But ask why nothing is done, as this column has asked time after time, and the answer is double-talk from our State and Treasury Departments alike.

This double-talk has confused our public. The facts are clear, nevertheless, and the figures are official. I have verified each figure with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and the first thing required is to stop the nonsense regarding whether France "really owes us the money."

HERE ARE FACTS

Here are the particulars: The basic French debt, so old that it goes back to the days of World War I and all of which remains due and payable to this very day, was $4.68 billion. It was actually much higher but — surprise, surprise — the French negotiated it down.

It has nothing to do with America's foreign aid — all free. It is merely part of the truly due obligations incurred in his doctoral thesis at the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

10 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, June 6, 1956.

Sister M. Rosella, OSF, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Huspek, Appleton, was graduated from the Marquette University School of Nursing, Stationed at St. Joseph Hospital, Milwaukee. Sister Rosella was a member of the community of Franciscan sisters. Miss Margo Zordel, Appleton coed at Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, was to serve the junior class next term on the Student Council and as secretary; she was elected president of Gamma chapter of Kappa Sigma Theta sorority, was an active member of the Women's Chorus.

Francis Baeten was chairman of the Eighth Grade folk dance for students at St. Therese School. The event was to honor the graduating class. Mrs. Jerome Eastman was in charge of refreshments, Mrs. A. T. Thibodeau and Mrs. Paul Geenen the decorations. Other graduation activities included a class farewell breakfast being supervised by Mrs. George Howden, and a bus trip to Milwaukee. David Huhn was class president and Tom Jansen class secretary.

by debtor nations subject to collection.

Similarly, Britain still owes us $6.8 billion and 14 other countries $3 billion — for a total of more than $14 billion owed us by debtor nations.

This amount owed us by debtor nations that now somehow call themselves creditors exceeds our entire remaining gold reserve, which has now hit another new 28-year low.

The French sum includes $1.97 billion as the principal and $2.7 billion unpaid interest. Then there's $1.89 billion more in unmatured principal. In total, De Gaulle owes the American taxpayers a tidy $6.57 billion.

In 1931 France said she couldn't pay that year's installment. Washington declared a one-year moratorium. That was the end of that. Our taxpayers have made up the difference ever since. And the Paris government has the gall to no longer even carry these billions on official statements listing France's external debt.

In addition, France has outstanding three separate loans arising from World War II. These totalled $592 million.

De Gaulle has been servicing debts incurred after World War II regularly and has made some payments in advance of due dates. He has also finally repaid a $179 million loan by the Export-Import Bank that goes back to 1945. But he still owes us in this debt cluster approximately $400 million.

WAR ON DOLLAR

Yet, sunk under this mountain of debt, De Gaulle is free to systematically conduct his declared war on our dollar and outrageously hammers away at our dwindling gold reserve.

De Gaulle has taken a gold bite out of us as big as $150 million in a single day and has served notice on our Treasury (hold your breath) that he will withdraw a minimum of $34 million in gold a month. Actually, behind the scenes, he exceeds this minimum each month.

Let me give your our Treasury Department's answer to me:

"The United States does regard defaulted World War I debts as valid obligations, and it is true that France owes $6 billion plus to us from her World War I debt and $400 million piled up since 1940. But we know of no prospect that the United States will force payment by defaulting on its obligations to foreign countries."

Default! Force payment! My eye! Our Washington officials are not helpless. They're spineless. Their first duty is to our own country's citizens. We taxpayers should insist in a nationwide roar that all money owed us abroad be paid. It's high time we told the politicians that we're sick and tired, fed up to the teeth, with holding the bag.

War on Mosquitoes Is Also War on Wildlife

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The statement made by the board of health that fogging will commence on the weekend of May 28, in the city's annual "war on mosquitoes" was incomplete. It should have read, in the city's annual "war on mosquitoes, birds, bees and other useful forms of wild life."

Unfortunately, pesticides can't tell one from the other, and what affects one, affects all.

Why the weekend of May 28 was chosen, I do not know. Perhaps one of the members of the board of health or the health department was blindfolded, and he stuck a pin in the calendar, and that was it.

All I know is, this has been a relatively cold spring and there are no mosquitoes in our neighborhood. So this first fogging spree will not be a "war on mosquitoes," but a "war on the birds and bees and other forms of wild life."

When are we going to wake up to the destructive elements of fogging and stop the practice altogether?

Wisconsin Report

Republican Invitation To Labor Leader Was Proposed by Ody Fish

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The chairman of the Republican Party of Wisconsin has volunteered an illuminating amplification of the report in this space about the motivation and the effect of the appearance of George Haberman, president of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO, as a featured speaker at the Republican state convention recently.

Wyngaard

Ody Fish, the head of the party organization, explains that the invitation to Haberman was his idea, in consultation with other party organization leaders, and did not come from Mr. Haberman, as this reporter had suggested. On that point it is relevant to say that this column's information came from a normally reliable and obviously well-informed quarter, and was offered here in good faith and was intended as a background detail useful in a full understanding of the incident.

Mr. Fish writes: "We have talked for a long time about a closer method of opening communications with labor. Gov. Knowles and I have talked about this on many occasions and the two of us have met with labor individuals on several occasions. The determination to invite him (Haberman) to the convention was my decision."

LABOR PLATFORM PLANK Chairman Fish also relates that Haberman was "delighted" at the convention labor plank which said in effect that a "right to work" statute in Wisconsin, as some conservatives have desired, will be unnecessary with the preservation of the present Wisconsin employment peace act, the state's basic labor code.

Finally, the party executive reports that "the reaction we have had from labor sources has been tremendous. We have a union man who has now announced for state senator from Milwaukee. I have spoken to several labor-dominated wards in Milwaukee and believe me when I say that I have experienced nothing as stimulating as this in recent years in the Republican party. I certainly do not believe that the significance has been exaggerated . . . We are not seeking the support of labor as such. We are seeking the support of individuals and for the first time we are able to penetrate areas we have not been able to penetrate before."

Thanks to Mr. Fish for clarifying an incident that may become one of the footnotes to the history of these times.

EXPLANATION The party leader provides other background details: "I then met with Haberman. We discussed the situation very frankly. I then discussed it with Gov. Knowles and told him that I was considering inviting Haberman to our state convention. He thought it was a wonderful idea. Prior to giving final approval I invited Haberman to speak to our 60 state convention committee people. He gave a tremendous talk. Following this I discussed it with all of the people there and they all agreed that

Psychiatric Supply Large in Washington

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Which American city has more psychiatrists per capita than any other in the country? No, you're wrong — it's not New York. And which American city consumes more liquor per capita than any other in the country? Again you're wrong — it's not New York.

Harris

Our nation's capital, Washington, D.C., leads the field in both of these significant categories — and leads it in practically nothing else. Few other "civilized" countries in the world have so little to be proud of in their capitals.

Except for its stately buildings, Washington has none of the adornments of a great city — no theater to speak of, a third-rate symphony orchestra, dull and conventional museums, and practically no literary or intellectual ferment.

It is a one-industry town, and like all one-industry towns, it is essentially provincial. This is not true of the capitals of England, France, Italy and most other European countries, for they have never submerged and subordinated their personalities to the drab industry of government and politics.

Much shock has been expressed at the slums of Washington and the need for urban renewal to remove the vast pockets of poverty and degradation among the deprived population. But equally necessary is an urban renewal of the mind and spirit, to transform the affluent part of the capital into a city worthy of the world's respect and admiration.

and recoilless rifle fire. A U.S. spokesman said shrapnel cut down some surprised American soldiers as they jumped for their weapons in the small compound.

No Figures

The spokesman said there were some wounded and killed but no figures were released.

While the fighting intensified in the central highlands, U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots stepped up the air war against North Viet Nam Tuesday. They flew 70 multiplane missions compared with 55 on the previous day.

The attacks concentrated on supply lines and coastal junks and barges, a spokesman said. One ship was hit 40 miles south of Haiphong, the north's major port.

An Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down north of Dong Hoi — the 257th American plane reported lost over the north — but the pilot was rescued from the South China Sea.

Two-Hour Raid

American airmen flew 392 combat sorties in the south. Another 281 sorties were flown by the Vietnamese air force. One of the attacks involved a two-hour coordinated air raid by American and Vietnamese pilots against a Viet Cong unit spotted in the woods near a canal 35 miles from Saigon.

Air spotters estimated 46 Viet Cong killed.

With the evident lessening of political tension, the U.S. military command trimmed the nightly curfew in Saigon by two hours. The new hours are from 10:30 p.m. to 6 a.m. During the recent street disorders, Americans were ordered off the streets at 8:30 p.m.

Begin Review

The junta began reviewing the recommendations of its 32-man Electoral Commission. Speculation centered on whether the government would swallow the most controversial of the proposals. This would let the Constituent Assembly elected in September transform itself into a governing parliament after it drafts a constitution.

The proposal would shorten the life of the military regime. The chief avowed goal of the militant Buddhists, however, said earlier he expected a second round of voting for a national legislature and that the changeover to civilian rule would take about a year.

As expected, the commission proposed a 150-seat Constituent Assembly — roughly one representative per 100,000 people. It proposed allocating 11 seats for two national minorities — Cambodians living in Viet Nam and the mountain tribesmen.

Suggest Ban

In keeping with the government's policies, the commission suggested a ban on Communists and neutralists. By the latter, the government means those who espouse a political deal with the Viet Cong. A target date of Aug. 20 was set for nomination of candidates with the campaigning beginning six days later and ending a day before the vote.

A commission spokesman said he probably will announce a final draft to the nation within a week.

DeGaulle to Determine French Role in Germany

By CARL HARTMAN, Editor of CENTAG, the Central Army Group of the alliance. BONA, Germany (AP) — Whether French forces stay in Germany or pull out seems to many of their officers to depend on French President Charles de Gaulle's getting his way with his allies, not on the needs of Western defense.

It's a long time since he stopped thinking as a general and began to think as a politician, one ally said.

De Gaulle has told President Johnson that he no longer wants to take part in an integrated system of defense but will fight at the side of his allies if they are the victims of unprovoked aggression. He will decide.

This reporter has just returned from a four-day visit to the French forces in Germany. There is little criticism of De Gaulle among them, but a lot of officers will be unhappy if he decides to pull them out.

10,000 Men
The French have over 70,000 men in this country, more than the British but only about a third as many as the Americans.

If war broke out tomorrow the French would, in theory, come under Allied command. Gen. Jacques Massu and his army would be at the orders of Gen. Andrew P. O'Meara, commander in chief of the U.S. Army in Europe and command.

Kaukauna Utility to Ask PSC Okay for $4,200,000 Plant

Building of Power Source Would Follow Connection With Menasha

KAUKAUNA — The council voted with the aldermen in Tuesday night authorized the favor of a separate vote where Electric and Water Utility to the committee's recommendation to apply to the Wisconsin Public Service Commission for permission to construct a steam electric generating plant at an estimated cost of $4,200,000.

The plant is part of a long-range program to increase the electrical generating capacity of the city to meet growth and expansion needs.

The plant would be constructed after completion of an inter-connection facility with the City of Menasha, which would allow the two municipalities to provide each other with electrical power in time of need.

There is no definite construction schedule at the present time, according to a spokesman for the Electric and Water Utility.

The two cities are now awaiting PSC approval of the inter-connection plan.

Mortgage revenue bonds would be used to finance construction of the plant.

Taxi Discussion
Aldermen also authorized a taxicab license to William H. Dercks, Kimberly, to operate in the city despite the continued objection of three aldermen. Ald. Russell Dix, (4th), attempted to have a separate vote on a committee recommendation to issue the license, but his motion for the separate vote was deadlocked at 5-5.

Tradition Steeped Eagle Badge Presented to 4th Scout Recipient

A Boy Scout Eagle badge, steeped in family tradition was awarded Tuesday night to William Kuehmstedt at a court of honor by Troop 8 of the First Congregational Church.

Kuehmstedt, 13, is the fourth member of his family to earn the award in 35 years. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Kuehmstedt, 2102 N. Rankin St.

The Eagle pin presented to Kuehmstedt was awarded originally to Robert Kirtland Wolter, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Wolter, 518 N. Vine St., in 1931. "Kirt," as he was known, was the youngest Scout in the Valley Council at that time to receive the award. He was recognized with 13 other new Eagle Scouts at a special court of honor held at the Lawrence Memorial Chapel the next year.

Naval Academy
Wolter graduated from Appleton High School and attended Lawrence University for two years before enrolling at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

He was killed in action during World War II while serving aboard the battleship USS Colorado.

Wolter was a first cousin once removed to Kuehmstedt, since his father and Wolter were cousins.

The coveted Eagle pin next passed to two other first cousins once removed of Wolter, the

Foster Child Units to Fete Local Parents

A dinner honoring foster parents in the area, sponsored by five local child welfare agencies, is scheduled for 7 p.m. June 16 at the Catholic Club.

The sponsoring agencies include the Catholic Apostolate of Appleton; Lutheran Social Services of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan; Outagamie County Department of Public Welfare; Children Service Society of Wisconsin, and State Department of Public Welfare, division of children and youth.

Chester F. Luce, child welfare superintendent of Outagamie County, will serve as master of ceremonies. Light entertainment is planned.

"This is one opportunity to recognize the foster parents for the contribution they make to the total child welfare program," Mrs. Jane Kaplan, social worker with Children's Service Society, Neenah, said.

Troop 8 Court of Honor

2 Eagles Awarded At Boy Scout Fete

Two Eagle Scout awards were presented Tuesday night at Telulah Park as Troop 8 of the Boy Scouts of America held a court of honor.

Cited for winning the highest scouting award were Gordon McAllan son of Mr. and Mrs. John McAllan, 147 Gardner Row, and William Kuehmstedt, 2102 N. Rankin St. Two other scouts were honored for attaining the rank of life scout, immediately below Eagle.

They were Mark Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis, 39 River Drive, and James Boldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boldt, 649 E. Marquette St. James Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker, 1337 East Marquette St., was given the Star award. Six first class, two second class and two tenderfoot awards along with merit badges also were awarded.

Appleton Officials Find City 1 of 1st to Update Street Lighting System

When it comes to updating lighting systems, Appleton apparently saw the light before many other U.S. communities.

The conclusion was arrived at by Director of Inspections Charles Magnette and Electrical Inspector Joseph Schoenhaar recently when attending a national street lighting exposition at Hendersonville, N.C.

Under a city council-approved program, the city has entered into an agreement with the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. to remove all incandescent bulbs and replace them with mercury vapor lights between now and 1970.

Impressed by Display
Magnette and Schoenhaar were impressed with what they saw at the outdoor display area which had almost every roadway lighting arrangement duplicated for study and comparison, using 130 fixtures of 15 different types.

Schoenhaar made several observations, most notably that in the past 10 years the light source has improved greatly.

"Because of weather conditions and overall costs, it was pointed out the mercury vapor is the best lighting value at this time," Schoenhaar said.

Helps Prevent Crime
In addition to moving traffic more safely and faster, he indicated crime prevention was another feature of good lighting.

Increased business has also been experienced from the use of better lighting. Schoenhaar said, adding that shopping atmosphere improves as the lighting is increased.

"This I have been told is the experience on the W. College Avenue 'strip,'" Schoenhaar said. He also said the accident rate, too, has declined on the Grand Chute commercial strip.

Explains Advantages
He explained: By using a half mile section on N. Richmond Street, which are incandescent lamps, and the same distance on Wisconsin Avenue, which are mercury vapor, I found that for one-third the cost, the mercury vapor lights are better.

Part of Reorganization
The executive director's post is part of a reorganization plan for the AIM program's administrative structure which the university will present to the Board of Regents.

Purpose of the AIM program is to provide higher educational opportunities for individuals, primarily adults, who are unable to attend college on campus.

At present, the AIM program includes freshman-sophomore, graduate and professional courses on the graduate level.

The ultimate goal is to develop a four-year undergraduate program.

Various media and electronic devices are being developed and used in the program along with techniques used in correspondence courses.

Responsibilities of Post
As executive director, Najem would be responsible for directing the design, development and production of the AIM program. He would work under Charles A. Wedemeyer, who is director of the program.

Wedemeyer, whose AIM duties are part-time since he also holds a position in the university's extension division, said there was a need for a full-time executive director.

If the reorganization plan is approved, the duties of the associate director and secretary would be assumed by the executive director.

Najem would assume his duties later this summer or early fall.

To Interview Applicants
Adolfsen noted that a screening committee has been established to interview applicants for the dean's post at the Center. The university hopes to be able to make a recommendation to the board of regents at its July meeting.

Najem, a native of East Liverpool, Ohio, was valedictorian of his class at Mount Union College, and received MA

Outagamie Executive Committee Feels an Attempt Being Made To Push Proposal Too Rapidly

Following complaints that an attempt was being made to "push it through too rapidly," the Outagamie County Board's executive committee this morning agreed to hold over at least until August, submitting of a proposal to consolidate county institutions under a central board.

The proposal originally had been expected to come up for board action at the June 14 meeting.

Action this morning came after a resolution calling for consolidation came up for discussion and anticipated approval by the executive committee.

Would Combine Administration
The resolution called for combining the administration of the Golden Age Home, the Riverview Sanatorium and General Hospital, the Community Guidance Center, the Outagamie County Welfare Department and the Community Health Services of the county under a five-member County Board of Public Welfare.

The board would be comprised of one county board supervisor and four members to be selected from among electors of the county.

The board, in turn, would hire a director who would be in charge of coordinating programs now handled on an individual basis in the various county institutions.

Consolidation would be possible under terms of a recently enacted state law, which leaves final action up to a vote of the county board.

Chief Spokesmen
Chief spokesmen against the resolution were Eugene Kloes and Arnold Welch, Appleton supervisors, and J. W. Weyenberg, supervisor from Kaukauna, all of whom stated they objected to the sudden urgency in getting the matter through the executive committee when it had been under study for some time. All three are members of the board's health, education and welfare committee.

"I'm not against the consolidation, but I want more answers than I now have," Kloes said.

A. C. Braun, vice president of the Appleton Taxpayers Association, stated, when asked, that his group has not had ample time to study the proposal and therefore has reached no conclusions or recommendations.

The association is expected to give close consideration to the plan.

Further Study
Further study of the consolidation was opposed by Patrick Mares, Appleton supervisor and member of the executive committee. Mares said he could not see what could be gained by more consideration.

The matter will go back to the health committee for more study and will be brought back to the executive committee Aug. 1. It could go before the county board in August.

Court Refers Appleton Man to State Mental Hospital for Tests

An Appleton man, charged by city police with forging a $68 check last Friday, was referred today to the Central State Mental Hospital for examination.

Court proceedings against William A. Ward, 38, 225 E. Murray St., were postponed indefinitely by Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller, Branch 2.

The action followed a recommendation by court appointed Attorney Joseph J. Cummings, Appleton. Ward was charged with forging the check cashed at the Park N' Market Store, 1800 S. Lawe St.

Case Worker Transfers From Waupaca Post

Begins Duties at Women's Home;
Replacement Named

WAUPACA — Mrs. Ruth Kelly, Waupaca agent for the State Department Public Welfare Division of Corrections, has been transferred to the Wisconsin Home for Women at Tavcheedah. Mrs. Kelly will begin her new duties June 20.

Mrs. Kelly has been with the State Department of Public Welfare for the past nine years. Prior to that, she was a child welfare worker in Waupaca County for 10 years.

Miss Diane Romayko, a 1960 graduate of the University of Wisconsin and a native of Campbellport, will succeed her. Miss Romayko will assume her duties June 13 and will maintain an office in Wisconsin Rapids, acting as supervisor for Waupaca and six other counties.

New Agent
Joseph Eich, 25, a native of Appleton, has been named probation and parole agent in the Waupaca office of the State Department of Public Welfare Division of Corrections.

Eich replaces Tavern Hanke who resigned Feb. 1 to become director of social services at the Grand Army Home for Veterans at King.

Injuries Occur In 2 Accidents

Two Cars Damaged
In Tuesday Crash;
Auto Hits Utility Pole

Two motorists were injured in separate accidents in Appleton Tuesday.

George K. Latza, 19, 1714 N. Ulman St., received cuts and bruises when the car he was driving was struck by another vehicle about 10:15 p.m. on E. Atlantic Street near N. Morrison Street.

Driver of the second car was James J. Hoolihan, 25, 632 E. Harrison St., Hoolihan, who was northbound on Morrison, told Appleton police the brakes failed on his car, causing him to strike the right side of the Latza vehicle which was eastbound on Atlantic.

Checked Brakes
However, after police checked the brakes and found them in working order, Hoolihan admitted to police his foot must have slipped off the brake pedal. The front end of the Hoolihan car and the right side of the Latza car were damaged.

Donald J. Theyel, 25, 207 E. McKinley St., received a cut lip and arm injuries when the car he was driving struck a utility pole in front of 1043 E. South River St. about 2:45 a.m. Tuesday. The accident was not reported to police until Tuesday evening.

Theyel said he could not straighten out his steering wheel after rounding a curve. The right front of his car was damaged.

Ambulance Fails In Emergency Run

NEENAH — Harold Neubauer, 62, 712 De Pere St., Menasha was dead on arrival at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday after he suffered a heart attack while working at the Menasha Corp. plant on U.S. 41.

The Neenah ambulance responded to the call at 8:27 p.m. but a break-down in the vehicle and a train blocking the Cecil Street crossing delayed the ambulance.

The 1955 Cadillac ambulance had a mechanical failure — a broken water hose — at the intersection of Cecil Street and Green Bay Road while on the way to the hospital. An emergency call to the fire station brought truck No. 4, a new Ford panel wagon to the scene.

The man was quickly transferred to the panel truck but the trip was again delayed by a Soo Line freight at the Cecil Street crossing for about one minute. He was given oxygen and heart massage treatments by the ambulance attendants during the entire trip to the hospital which took about 18 minutes.

Ordinance Revision

Appleton Rules Out Referendum In Fall on Women Bartenders

There will be no fall referendum on whether Appleton should license women bartenders as far as the council is concerned.

The proposal by Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd) was killed Tuesday night by the council's welfare ordinance committee. It could be revived by citizens petition.

The committee's action in burying the referendum idea as far as detracted from its determination to revise the existing city ordinance prohibiting the issuance of bartender's licenses to women.

Preliminary Okay
At the last council meeting, aldermen gave preliminary approval to the women bartender proposal.

In their drive to repeal the present ordinance, the committee also indicated it would act favorably on an operator's application made by JoAnne Gail Sonsthagen, 725 N. Division St.

Her application was denied several months ago by the council and action was first taken last night to refund her license deposit with the advice to submit a new request.

Approves 400
The committee also approved close to 400 license applications and permits that were applied for by the April 15 deadline prescribed by state law.

It was disclosed some tavernkeepers have not applied or have submitted applications late and may not have them approved by July 1, the date the licensing year starts.

The statute also states that applications received by the April cutoff date cannot be acted on later than June 15.

Menasha Marks July 4th on 3rd

MENASHA — Mayor Kenneth Holmes had to call his first tie-breaking vote at a council session to decide that Menasha will celebrate the Fourth of July on July 3. Unless it rains. Then the celebration will be held on the Fourth.

The city traditionally avoids observing the Fourth on the Fourth so its fireworks display won't conflict with Neenah's annual Venetian Parade of decorated boats on the Fox River.

This year, however, Boys' Sports, Inc. plans to hold a fund raising program July 2, 3 and 4 in Jefferson Park, further complicating the date-setting problem.

Hilbert Church To Install New Pastor June 19

Rev. Kenneth Weber
St. Peter Lutheran

HILBERT — The Rev. Kenneth J. Weber has accepted a call to St. Peter Lutheran Church here and will be installed at 7:30 p.m. June 19 by circuit counselor the Rev. Robert Bernhardt, Plymouth.

Pastor Weber was born in Milwaukee Jan. 31, 1928 and served 6½ years in the United States Air Force after his graduation from high school. Most of his service was overseas.

After his discharge from military service, Pastor Weber studied at the Milwaukee School of Engineering, then enrolled in Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill. He was graduated from the theological seminary and ordained in 1959.

The new pastor has served congregations of Immanuel and Faith-English Lutheran Churches in Colorado and comes to Hilbert from Trinity Lutheran Church of West Chicago. He also has served the district as Walther League Youth Counselor and for the last three years has been a member of the district Evangelism Board.

Pastor Weber is married. The couple has four sons.

The Hilbert congregation has been without a pastor since the death of the Rev. Martin Schneider in March. The Rev. Robert Watney, pastor of St. Martin Lutheran Church, Chilton, has served as the new pastor during the interim.

Martin Calls for Full-Time Status for State Legislators

BY PETER GENIESSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — A full time status for state legislators to better balance the three branches of government and to go along with the recent salary increase was proposed by Assemblyman David O. Martin in a talk before members of the Neenah-Menasha Optimist Club Tuesday.

The Neenah legislator noted there are increased demands on the time of conscientious senators and assemblymen to research and study proposals. We need a full time staff to balance the executive and judicial branches of government.

Martin said he spent more than 200 days in Madison in the past year attending regular sessions and committee meetings and additional days doing research on pending bills. This was double the amount of time he spent on legislative business in 1961.

Staff Not Enough

He said a legislator could have a staff to help him with investigation, but the senator or assemblyman should be present to review the information, make a decision and to initiate a policy and then direct the bill through the proper channels to be truly effective.

Martin, who voted with the majority of the legislators to almost double their salaries last Friday, expressed concern with the manner the senate and assembly passed the bill.

"I would have been happier if we had had a public hearing," he said. But leaving the item to the end of the current session didn't allow for the normal order of business, Martin explained.

Many legislators don't like to have to set their own salaries, he stated. The new scale, which calls for $9,600 per year and is plenty for a full-time legislator, will place the solons in a No. 5 civil service classification and will take the salary matter out of their hands, he said.

Up $3,400

The representatives now receive $9,460 a year and their pay was boosted up from $3,400 two years ago. The increase is awaiting the governor's signature.

He said the new scale is needed to interest qualified men in state government but indicated some legislators may not merit the increased salary. It would be nice to grade on the performance of legislators, Martin stated.

But who would do the grading? He said the solons' constituents have to do the grading on their ballots.

The Republican assemblyman also spoke briefly on Governor Warren P. Knowles' four major priority points at the start of the 1965 legislative session.

He said the highway acceleration bill had passed both houses calling for bonds of $26 million over the next eight years to complete the interstate system. Another $15 million will be raised with the one cent increase in the gasoline tax, Martin said. Some $800,000 of the latter amount will go to pay the interest on municipal bonds for road construction and the remaining $14.2 million is earmarked for improvements on the state trunk system each year.

Martin said there were no priorities on road construction outside of the interstate system. He stated he co-authored an amendment to tack the construction of a second lane over Lake Butte des Morts on the highway acceleration bill, but the motion was defeated by a 52-41 vote. Then a number of other assemblymen futilely attempted to put their home projects on the priority list.

He spoke of the stalemate in the water control act because of partisan differences. The Republicans want a new agency with a three-man head to oversee anti-pollution legislation while the Democrats favor the work being done by an existing agency with one person in charge. A special bipartisan committee is expected to meet Thursday morning to iron out differences.

Martin said he was favorably impressed with the pollution control work being done at the Twin Cities. He praised Bergstrom Paper Co. for its proposed $500,000 worth of equipment to abate pollution and the Neenah-Menasha Sewerage Commission for the $2 million project which will go into operation in the fall. He also noted that the Town of Menasha's sewage plant was one of the most modern and effective in the area and a similar operation was planned in the Town of Grand Chute.

Council Denies Zoning Request At Kaukauna

Property Owners Fight Proposed New Central Business

KAUKAUNA — The Council turned down a planning commission recommendation Tuesday night to rezone four lots on the east side of Lave Street near Tobacco Street from residential to central business.

A request for rezoning by Bernard and Mathilda Hietpas was approved by the commission, but city officials were presented with petitions by surrounding property owners against the proposal. Signers of the petition represented more than 20 per cent of the adjacent property owners and 20 per cent of property owners who had frontage across from the property concerned.

John E. Esler, representing Hietpas, said zoning ordinances were established for the orderly development of the city and since Lave Street was a main thoroughfare generating much traffic, it had been expanded and through the years, extending the business area. He indicated the city would benefit by expanding the business area as this property has a higher tax base.

quarters vote of the council to make the change. Aid Lloyd Kloehn, (2nd), felt the matter should be held for study under the master comprehensive plan being prepared for the city and Ald. Russell Dix, (4th), felt Hietpas should have contacted surrounding property owners and made his intentions known prior to applying for the rezoning.

Wild Life Refuge
Aldermen agreed to a proposal by Ald. William Rogers (5th), to investigate the possibility of making a wild life refuge of property known as the Thousand Islands, the wooded area and property east of the city dam toward the Girl Scout day camp.

A meeting is planned with officials of the Town of Buchanan and other interested county officials to discuss the possibility of creating a refuge in the area. Rogers, who also serves as district assemblyman, indicated the State Conservation Department was interested.

Ald. James McDaniel, (3rd), read a prepared statement calling the city streets "horse and buggy trails" consisting of "hole after hole with dust in the middle."

He felt city administration was lax in letting streets get in such deplorable condition. "they are not fit for development of the city and cars nor horse and buggies." He advocated doubling the concrete thoroughfare generating much street improvement program traffic, it had been expanded and an accelerated improvement through the years, extending the ment program on other streets business area. He indicated the prior to concrete surfacing.

Kaukauna Board Seeks Correspondence Plan

Would Reimburse High School Students For Courses Taken for Enrichment Purposes

KAUKAUNA — The Board of Education Tuesday authorized Walter Schmidt, high school principal, to work out a program for board consideration whereby the board would reimburse high school students taking correspondence courses for enrichment purposes.

Schmidt will set up the entire program, listing what percentage of the cost would be shared by the board and rules which students would have to meet to qualify for aid. The board will consider the proposal Schmidt presents at the next meeting.

Frank Femal offered to sell his home to the city for a future school site. He requested $13,000 and the board countered with an $8,400 offer. Both parties agreed to engage appraisers who would select a third appraiser of the property in an effort to reach agreement.

The property is located on Island Street east of the existing high school and is part of an entire block which eventually could be utilized for school purposes.

Salary Increases
Salary increases of $1,000 per year for the principal of the senior high school and $800 per year for the superintendent of schools were approved. Board members indicated the increases were in line with those being given throughout the Fox Cities and favored a high increase for the principal as the superintendent was relieved of some of his duties by the hiring of Avenue to the west city limits failed.

Approval was given to the installation of sidewalk on the park side of LaFollette Park from W. Third Street to Park Street and the purchase of six of persons objecting and indi-

Illya Image Haunts Actor David McCallum

Almost Quit His Starmaking U.N.C.L.E. Role; Returns to Hollywood After Movie in Italy

By BOB THOMAS
PORTOFINO, Italy (AP)—
David McCallum was experiencing a rare moment of repose over dinner at an open-air restaurant in this jewel-like Mediterranean village.
"I have never been more tired in my life than I am at this very moment," he announced.
At 9 that evening he had finished a day's shooting on his new movie, "Three Bites of the Apple." It is a spy chase which has had him racing over Italian scenery from here to Venice to the Alps, where he performed a strenuous fight with siege Domenico Modugno at 8,000 foot altitude.
Known As Illya
But it seemed to be not merely physical fatigue that was affecting him. He is pursued everywhere by his alter ego, Illya.

North Central, Winnebago OK 10-Year Pact

Package Calls for 6 Cent Landing Fee,
Plus Office Charge

OSHKOSH — A 10-year contract calling for increased office rental payments and landing fees was agreed to this morning by the Winnebago County Board Aviation Committee and a negotiator for North Central Airlines.

The package consisted of a 6 cent fee per 1,000 pounds of maximum gross landing weight and $3.35 per square foot per year for office space at the county airport.

The contract, if approved by the county board, would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965 when a previous two-year contract expired. It would run through Dec. 31, 1974.

More Office Space
A clause is planned in the contract to provide for renegotiations when additional office space is built by the county and made available to North Central.

The previous contract called for 3.6 cents per 1,000 pounds as a landing fee and $2.65 per square foot in rental charge. Committee members initially hoped to secure an agreement calling for 7 cents and $1, respectively.

It was pointed out that North Central pays Brown County for use of Austin Straube Field in Green Bay 6 cents and $3.80. Airline revenue at present is much higher there, however, due to larger cargo volume and the fact that revenue per passenger is higher, since most passengers terminate with the airline in Chicago.

Pick Directors For New Bank

First National West
Names 5 to Board,
Okays Equipment

Organizers of First National Bank West, a new bank which recently was given approval to organize by the federal Comptroller of the Currency, met on Tuesday and elected a board of directors.

Named to the board were Harold C. Adams, Gordon A. Bubolz, G. E. Hoffman, Walter L. Rugland and William H. Zuehlke Jr.

The board authorized Marvin Heiden to enter into contracts for the purchase of equipment, supplies and services. In addition, subscription agreements, by-laws and organization expenses were approved, together with building plans for space which will be in the H. C. Prange Budget Center complex on W. College Avenue in the Town of Grand Chute.

Plans for organization of the bank have been underway since July, 1965 when the organizers, who are connected with the First National Corp., an Appleton bank holding company, made application to the Comptroller of the Currency.

City Receives $175,831 State Check for Taxes

KAUKAUNA — The first of quarterly income tax apportionment checks of $175,831 from the state has been received by Mrs. Elaine Brown, city treasurer.

Two more checks are likely prior to August, according to the treasurer. Last year the first installment was $153,268 or $22,000 less than received this year.

Total estimated receipts in 1966 budget for state income tax was $350,000, about $40,000 higher than anticipated in 1965 when actual receipts amounted to approximately $325,000.

Police Investigate Evening Burglary at Beneficial Finance

About $70 was believed taken in an early evening burglary Tuesday at Beneficial Finance Co., 341 W. College Ave.

The theft was discovered about 6:45 p.m. by a janitor. Police said entry into the office was made by forcing a door lock and the money was taken from a filing cabinet after a heavy door was pried open.

Contents of several office drawers were strewn about the floor.

Detectives said it appeared that whoever entered the office may have been frightened away by the arrival of the janitor. A considerable amount of change was included in the take, police said.

Village Man Fined for Inattentive Driving

Atlanta Braves Blasted At Rotary Club Meeting

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Milwaukee County Board Chairman Eugene H. Grobschmidt — a verbal fireball in his own right — threw a volley of curses and spitters at the transplanted Braves here Tuesday.

The balding attorney politician, whose side won the first round in the legal battle against the Braves and National League, had top billing at the weekly meeting of the Appleton Rotary Club.

Grobschmidt — his sideburns standing on end with the mention of such names as "Perini, Bartholomay, Bragan, Kuechle, and the Milwaukee Journal" — roasted the Braves from here to Atlanta for "betraying the people of Milwaukee and Wisconsin."

Big Business

"Fortunately, the sad experience encountered by us is not prevalent across the country," yelped Grobschmidt said, charging that baseball was big business and should be subject to Anti Trust Laws.

Claiming the Braves made the decision to move across the Mason-Dixon line more than three years ago, Grobschmidt said he was told in sworn confidence by an official of General Indicator Corp. in 1963 the Braves were going to move to Atlanta.

"It was the same year the Braves management said it was not moving and signed another contract for use of Milwaukee County Stadium," Grobschmidt wauke County Board and others cooperated with the Braves organization, lending a helping hand when the word got out the Braves were moving South, the financial problem in 1964. "We irony of the whole bit was that gave them a better deal to come out on concession prices," Atlanta Stadium was being built by General Indicator near Madison.

Grobschmidt claimed the Milwaukee County Board that hastened the departure of the Braves from Wisconsin," Grobschmidt declared, "I say the No. 1 cause was Kuechle (sports editor) and the Milwaukee Journal."

Student Gets Probation in Party Death

OSHKOSH — James Edward Bland, 20, Racine, Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh freshman held in the birthday party death of fellow WSU-O student, Lawrence Johnson, at Butte des Morts, April 22, today was placed on probation for a year to the State Department of Public Welfare.

Judge James V. Sitter, Winnebago County Court Branch 3, found Bland guilty of negligent handling of a .22 caliber pistol which caused the death of Johnson.

In court this morning, Bland changed his plea to guilty. He had pleaded innocent in a court appearance May 2.

Neither Dist. Atty. Thomas Fink nor Bland's Attorney, Eugene Williams, offered any recommendation for sentence.

Judge Sitter said that in his opinion no fine is payment for a loss of life. He found Bland guilty, but noted that no evidence indicated the event was a wilful act although "certainly there was negligence to a high degree." The judge said he saw no benefit to society in a jail sentence.

He explained carefully to the father of Lawrence Johnson that "The rationale of this case is Mr. Bland's conduct, not his state of mind." There was apparently no animosity between the two youths," Judge Sitter noted.

Johnson's father was in court this morning with Mr. James Bland, the defendant's father. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had filed a statement with the court April 25. It urged that no charge be brought against James Bland in when his bicycle collided with a car at the intersection of Wisconsin Avenue and Oak Street.

ADA Official Sees New Federal Image of Farms

Dairy Month Kick Off Dinner
For Outagamie at Seymour

BY PAT DUFFEY
Post-Crescent Farm Editor

SEYMOUR — In the next few years the federal government will take a different attitude toward farmers as the world's pinch for food is more fully felt, predicted Robert Bird, Fond du Lac, president of the state division of the American Dairy Association.

Bird spoke at a rural-urban dinner kicking off Dairy Month promotions in Outagamie County at Hotel Seymour Tuesday night. The event was sponsored by the Seymour Kiwanis Club.

Since the Communist bloc nations are unable to feed their populations it is up to the free world to expand its food production. A 40 per cent world population growth is predicted for 1980.

Strong Industry
It is a matter of concern when every three years a population the size of the U.S. is born, he said.

In this regard building a strong dairy industry is of interest to urban residents and farmers, he said. "Farming is raising food, almost half of which comes from dairying. It is little wonder that imitations are trying to snare its market," Bird noted.

Housewives who buy also are taking a couple cents a day from their husband's checks because the corresponding decline in dairying means less tractors, bulk tanks and other needs of the dairy industry.

Youth Programs

Bird advocated promotion of continued youth programs. For too long there has been the cry to bright youths not to enter farming. "We need the smartest boys we can get for dairying tomorrow," he said.

Bird said there are not enough boys entering farming to make up for the loss of 12 to 14 farmers discontinuing dairying each day. It takes a lot of on-the-farm experience to get the best production from the cows through wise use of feed, he said.

Need for Education

He expressed pleasure when told Seymour High School had 130 students enrolled in vocational-agriculture classes, but hit at the declining number of such programs in state schools, built with support from the state's dairy industry.

Since Wisconsin is the nation's leading dairying state Bird said, it must show the rest how to promote Dairy Month into a year-round program. In many states anticipation of the promotion signals a slight price increase.

The state merchandises 35 per cent of its milk production out of the state and needs an active promotion program as conducted by Alice in Dairyland, he said.

He praised Mrs. Hilmer Mueller, route 3, for her activities on the local scene in this regard.

less energy we got four times more light with mercury vapor lamps. In the residential area, I could only get a reading when under the light at the intersections.

"These findings prompted me to write a letter to the Public Safety Committee to have our street lighting improved throughout the city."

"We are beginning to see the value of good street lighting as planned over a five year program. I hope objections from the people on the brightness or placement of poles, will not disrupt the program schedule of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co."

"Some of our trees will have to be trimmed to fully utilize the value of good street lighting patterns."

On the reconstruction of College Avenue, Schoenhaar said, "I think it would be wise to consider a candle power of from 5 to 10. Our present range is from 5 to 1.35. This may seem like a big increase but from the reports about other cities, I believe the increase would be justified in the future."

Kagen said the responsibilities are to your own self, the nation, and to America's children.

"A democracy can survive only with educated people who can make meaningful choices," he commented. "If only 10 per cent of the population is well educated, I don't see how a democracy can exist."

Kagen said the Head Start program, which is designed to help pre-school children from economically and culturally deprived families, will be of great benefit.

American Pies . . . One-Crust Variety

Lemon Taffy Chiffon

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
by Lillian Mackesy

A pastry shell filled with fruit, jam, custard or some other delightful concoction goes by many names. It can be a good old-fashioned American pie, a tart or tartlette, a flan. Actually, there's not much difference and in some countries the terms are used interchangeably depending on the size of the pastry.

In the United States the term most often used is open-crust pie, single-crust or one-crust pie. The term tart usually refers to the individual or miniature pie and might even be a double-crust type. The French call the open-faced, tiny pastry a tartlette.

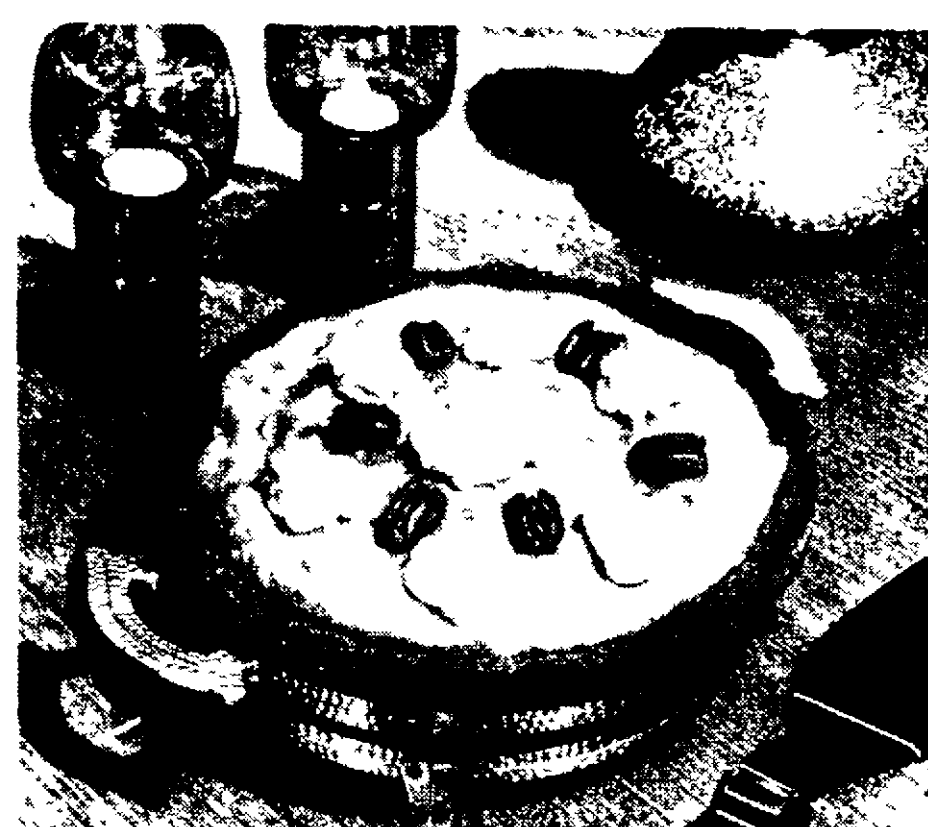

Almost all such desserts are cooked and served in a pie dish in the United States. However, in England and France a metal flan, or special fluted pastry ring that's placed on a baking sheet is used as a base for the tart or flan.

No matter what they're called, the type of pastry used may be extra short, the ordinary pie pastry, sweet semi-flaky or a puff pastry made rich with layers of butter. The crusts in some cases are baked empty and filled later. Other recipes may call for the pastry and crust to be baked together.

Often the size of the pie or tart becomes the cook's choice, some hostesses preferring the miniatures for company serving. Most men go for big, full-flavored pies baked in an oversized pan and then cut into family-sized wedges—if the family is a big one then two pies are preferred so that the pieces are generous.

The pies today are chosen for their recipe newness, which always makes for an exciting culinary adventure for the confirmed pie baker. They include chiffon pies and more robust variations. There are crumb crusts, pastry shells, pastry made from crumbled cookies and one fashioned from crisp flaked coconut.

The fillings are unusual. One is an old Southern favorite—the Sweet Potato Pie adapted to modern convenience preparation. Another uses vanilla pudding with applesauce, cooked apricots and a touch of slivered almonds. This pie or flan, as it's called, has a cookie shell crust and cookie dough fly-away wings.

Farm Bureau Women to Hold Calumet's Dairy Recipe Contest

Calumet County cooks will get wood. Harrison and Woodville may be a food best served cold. All recipes become the property of the Calumet County Farm Bureau Women.

The winner in each of the county areas will participate in the Calumet County cook-off scheduled for Monday, June 20 at 7 p.m. at the Public Service Building in Brill.

The winner of this contest will represent Calumet County in a live bake-off over television in Green Bay in September. The county winner also will be honored June 23 at the Cheese Derby in Hilbert by the Calumet County Cheesemakers Association.

Area chairmen and the district representatives are: Mrs. Edgar Steinbach, Brill; Mrs. Marion Forest, Junction; Mrs. Donald Sattler, Union; Mrs. Victor Geiser, route 1, Malone; Mrs. Victor Geiser, route 2, New Holstein; Mrs. Elmer Federwitz, route 1, Chilton; Mrs. Clarence Lemke, Sherburne.

Job Openings Abundant in Medical Field

CHICAGO, ILL. — The job horizon for the current crop of high school graduates and for next June's and for many June's to come is virtually unlimited in the medical service industry.

According to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, about one million more workers will be needed in this field in the next decade in addition to doctors, dentists and registered nurses. Emphasizing the rapid growth of this industry, the American Medical Association points out that in 1950 it was the nation's fifth largest employment field, 10 years later it had jumped to third place, and by 1970 it may well be in first place.

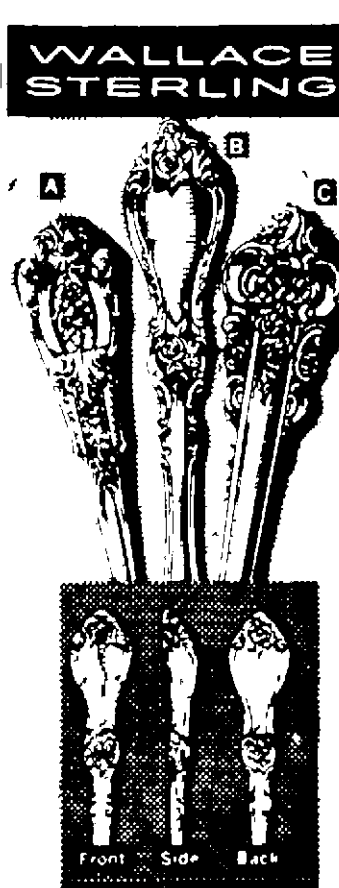

The range of jobs is staggering. It includes such traditional positions as medical secretary and such far-out ones as nuclear medical technologist. There are opportunities to work directly with people or in laboratories or with complicated and sensitive machinery. On-the-job training enables young people to qualify for technical positions of all kinds.

Dear Ann Lander I am heartsick and frightened and need your help before I go off the deep end I awakened at 2 a.m. for some mysterious reason and discovered that my husband was not in the bed beside me I thought I heard him speaking to someone in the kitchen and could not imagine with whom he could be visiting at that hour I had checked our two young children who were asleep in the next room

As I approached the kitchen I heard him using indecently filthy language and suddenly dawned on me that he was talking on the telephone I was virtually paralyzed for fully five minutes as I listened to him telephone two of our friends (women) In a disguised voice he said some of the most disgusting things I have ever heard in all my life

My husband does not know that I heard him and I don't know if I should tell him I have never heard him use such language in the 15 years we have been married I am scared to death that our friends may have recognized his voice and I face them Please please tell me what to do I'm in a Woman in a Panic

Dear Woman Tell your husband — at once — that you heard the telephone conversations and that he should get professional help without a minute's delay In Illinois (and many other states) there is a law against obscene telephone calls If your husband is caught arrested, and found guilty he could be sent to jail for six months

DEAR ANN Twelve years ago I caught my wife with another man I divorced her I could have taken the three children but I thought they would be better off with their mother

They moved to another city and I supported them for two years — until my wife remarried I made no effort to see them because I felt it would be best not to confuse the kids or ask them to do their loyalties between two fathers

Two weeks ago I got home some hopped on a plane and popped in on my ex and the kids I got a cold reception I'm sure my ex wife has turned my children against me How can I win their love? — Sad Dad

Dear Sad You drop out of sight for 12 years and then expect the kids to throw themselves into your arms?

Sorry Dad the love boat left 12 years ago and you weren't on board Don't blame your ex wife You did this to yourself

DEAR ANN LANDERS I am an 11-year-old girl who needs help Please print this letter to my mother so she can read it in the paper Thank you

Dear Mom No matter what I do or say or how I might act a times I love you I am thankful that you are at my side You are the best mother in the whole wide world Without you I wouldn't even be here Heaven knows where I would be Maybe no place

It is you who teaches me right from wrong and believe me I sure do appreciate it You are the greatest mom who ever lived I love you — Thank! Daughter

Dear Thankful What in the world did you do, anyway? Here is your letter and I sure wish you'd let me in on the whole story It must be a dorb

Tryouts Scheduled For Summer Play

Appleton children and teen-agers, ending their school year, have been invited to make summer plans by participating in the Appleton Park and Recreation Department summer theater. Tryouts for the annual children's play have been scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday and from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday at Morgan School.

Mrs. Anne Glasner, who will direct the production, has announced that "Ol' King Cole" is the play to be staged this season. Written by Joe Grenzebach, the play is a musical comedy with parts for children of all ages. Besides the king and his queen, such characters as Crunch, the villainous fiddler of the fiddles Tic, Tact, and Toe, the Royal Fiddlers and castlekeeper, bustling Mrs. Smedley, will be cast.

Four performances are planned this year. One will be an evening show and the others, matinees.

Miss Kaaren Miles and Miss Jane Casselman will have charge of musical direction and chorus.

The Rev. Martin Vosbeck presented gold rosaries to four 50-year members of the St. Elizabeth Society of St. John Catholic Church, Little Chute, Sunday. Holding their gifts are Mrs. Theodore DeGroot and

Depression Still Affects Women, Minority Groups

NEW YORK (AP) — Women in the newly independent countries are better accepted in preserve. After years of re-stomping, like 6-footers, ever public life than the so-called search she wrote "The Invisible Sear," a book about what the Depression did to American life, "minority" groups.

"And the reason," she goes on, "may be that the Great Depression perpetuated the notion that woman's place was in the home — not because there was work to do there, but because a woman who worked might take a job away from a man."

The Great Depression of the 30s is Caroline Bird's special American women have been like 6-footers, ever since. Mrs. Bird, a handsome, articulate, vivacious woman, who works for a public relations firm and manages a New York apartment and upstate home for a writer husband, is also the mother of a daughter born in 1935 and a son born in 1961. She says:

"The baby boom of the '40s was an attempt to make up for lost babies during the Depression. It set up a succession of waves of high and low births which are troublesome to marketers and school boards. In a way, my four-year-old son, born when I was 46 is a 'made up' baby from the Depression trough."

Thus Negroes, Jews, and women all found themselves discriminated against in employment, cut out of jobs they could have done, and made so dispirited and retarded as the Negroes have been since. As a matter of fact, we have not had a militant Negro movement until Negroes who grew up under full employment became adult to lead the marches and protests.

In some respects, ponders Mrs. Bird, American women are worse off as a minority than Negroes.

"They have been threatened with loss of their sex identification if they do what is called 'competing with men.' And they have been sold in Feminine Mystique that the goodies in the ads are to keep them happy rather than to keep everyone employed," she says.

Love affairs of the Depression, Mrs. Bird says, "tended to be rather high-minded, sexually subdued partnerships for mutual support and companionship."

Pregnancy became a disaster keep all such parts — plastic as "young people seriously debated whether they had a right to bring children into a wiping world like this, perhaps to cloth."

Parents Tell Engagement Of Daughter

KAUKAUNA — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Gunnering, route 1, Kaukauna, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Betty Ann, to Dennis J. Visser. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Vissers, 1113 N. Buchanan St., Little Chute.

Mr. Vissers is employed at Roloff Mfg. Corp.

An Oct. 15 wedding is planned.

Morale Boosters

"Our depression lasted longer than the depression abroad, in part at least because we did not rearm as Europe did nor did we go heavily into socialistic schemes as it did. So we had a big group of unemployed men whose woman had all they could do to bolster their morale."

Unemployment was easier on women than men if only because men were supposed to make a living and a man couldn't be blamed if he didn't, says Mrs. Bird.

"One result was that a whole generation grew up with strong

Waupaca Nips Weyauwega in BABA, 1 to 0

Johanknecht Homer Gives Weller Win Over Kapitzke

MARION — In the South Central division of the BABA, Waupaca remained undefeated by edging Weyauwega 1-0.

Rosholt beat Greenville 9-3 and Symco downed Scandinavia 6-2.

Waupaca's Bob Weller and Weyauwega's Jack Kapitzke hooked up in a pitcher's duel as each allowed only five hits.

A home run by Gary Johanknecht in the second inning gave Waupaca the winning margin.

Weller struck out five and walked only one while Kapitzke fanned eight and walked two.

Greg Hildebrand and Rick Burkholz both doubled for the losers.

Both Rosholt and Greenville collected nine hits. Dave Richter was the winning pitcher while Bruce Klug was the loser.

Rosholt scored three in the first. Greenville came back with four in the bottom of the first on a single by Bob Luxsander.

Richter walked and back doubles by Lee Keller and Dick Schroeder.

Rosholt added three more in the third, one in the fifth on a hit by Dave Richter, one in the seventh and another in the eighth.

Greenville scored one run in the sixth, one in the eighth and one in the ninth.

Dave Richter paced Rosholt with 3 for 5 and 3 KBI. Dick Schroeder and John Peters lost.

Since scored one run in the first three in the second is Dan Steinbach. He hit Jim Buschke on the head. Chris Mike Egan doubled and Mike Albin homered.

Jim Steinbach hit a 3-run homer in the ninth which gave Waupaca the win.

Waupaca's 1-0 victory was the first in the series.

The New London at La Crosse game was postponed Sunday and has been reset for July 4.

Hilbert Starts Reading Plan Remedial Program Set Monday Through Aug. 5 for 45 Pupils

HILBERT — The first summer remedial reading program will begin at the high school here Monday and continue through Aug. 5.

Some 45 pupils, fourth grade through high school, have been recommended by their teachers for participation based on their basic reading skills.

Classes will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. five days a week. Five or six field trips are included in the schedule.

Elementary principal Raymond H. Nehrlich will be in charge. He will be assisted by four teachers and two recent high school graduates who will be in charge of the library.

Funds for the program were provided by Title I of the National Elementary and Secondary School Education Act. Hilbert received about $10,000.

Dear Johnny:

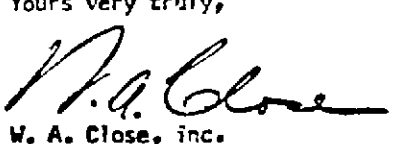

Thanks, Johnny, for featuring our store on the Tonight Show. We'll be watching "TONIGHT" tonight and regularly.

We agree SANSABELT is great! It is the greatest single reorder item we have ever had in our store.

We also agree that nine out of ten men who try SANSABELT buy SANSABELT. In fact, our actual record is better than that - but even more important, the men who buy SANSABELT buy more than one - they keep coming back for more.

SANSABELT should be the easiest selling job you have - it is for us!

Thanks again.

Old-Time Virtue May Hurt Player

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If you belong to the Older Generation, you may be too virtuous for your own good. Our children, taught to use things up as quickly as possible, would have less trouble with today's hand than the older who played it.

with dummy's ten of trumps. This economical play was his undoing.

Declarer got to his hand by ruffing a club and ruffed another diamond with the king of trumps. Then he cashed the ace of trumps and ruffed another club to get to his hand.

When South led the jack of spades, East won and returned a club. This made South use up his last trump and left East with the fourteenth trump and control of the hand. South was down three — all because he had been taught the value of thrift.

No Trouble

A youngster would have no trouble with the hand because he would rush to use up his high cards. The young South takes the ace of diamonds and ruffs a diamond with dummy's ace of trumps instead of the ten.

Declarer gets to his hand by ruffing a club and ruffs another diamond with the king of trumps. Then he leads the ten of trumps from dummy and overtakes with the jack, still following the principle of using up his high cards as quickly as possible.

South leads the nine of spades to force out the queen, and East returns a club to make declarer ruff. The difference is that South still has a trump and can draw East's last trump.

South is now in position to run the hearts. He makes his slam contract — all because he has been taught to use things up instead of saving them.

Daily Question
Partner opens the bidding with one club, and the next player passes. You hold: S 5 2; H J 3 2; D Q J 10 8; C A J 8 4. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond. Show a new suit rather than raise your partner's minor suit. (Copyright 1966)

Early Feeding Aids Premature Babies' Health

How soon after birth should a baby be fed? Although this remains one of the most controversial questions in the practice of pediatrics, several recent studies suggest that early feedings, even for premature infants, can be both safe and beneficial.

Dr. Paul Y. K. Wu reported recently that he and Dr. Peter A. Teilmann studied the effect of early feeding on 34 healthy but low weight infants born at Michael Reese Hospital and Michael Center in Chicago.

Half the babies were fed two hours after birth, the remainder not until 24 to 36 hours later, as is usual with preemies. They all received a formula that provided 20 calories per ounce, the other nutrients simulated breast milk.

Definite Results

What were the results? The babies fed soon after birth lost only 4.7 percent of birth weight in the immediate post-natal period, while the babies whose feedings began later lost an average of 7.4 percent of their birth weight. Most of the early feeders regained their lesser losses in a week, while it took the other babies 12.6 days to regain their weight.

The researchers also found that there was less of a substance called serum bilirubin in the blood stream of the babies fed soon after birth. This substance is found when jaundice occurs. These babies also had a significantly higher blood sugar level and higher sugar store in the liver than the infants fed after some delay. High bilirubin and low blood sugar levels are two of the major causes of mental retardation in preemies.

Imaginative Dash

Rainy days during the summer are fine times to bake quick loaves — the kind that are made with fruit and nuts. Store the quick loaves in your freezer and they'll be ready to make into sandwiches (with cream cheese fillings) for those picnics.

PINEAPPLE-BARBECUED CHICKS

Another all-time
FAVORITE RECIPE from

Good Housekeeping

2 (2½ to 3 pound) broiler-fryers, halved
1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
¾ cup brown sugar, packed
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Juice of one lemon
1½ teaspoons vinegar
Salt and Pepper
Soft butter or margarine

In a jar, combine pineapple, sugar, mustard, lemon juice, vinegar, dash of salt and pepper. Through length of each bird half, insert skewer to keep flat. Spread with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, wrap in foil, refrigerate.

About 1½ hours before serving: Start fire, unwrap birds, grill cut side down, 4" above hot coals, 30 minutes, turning and brushing often with butter. About 8 minutes before done, spoon some of the pineapple sauce over cut sides. Let birds grill a few minutes; turn and carefully spoon on rest of sauce. Makes 4 servings.

One-Crust Pies For Summertime

filling of the Toffee Chiffon Pie to give it a surprise flavor and crunchiness. Another irresistible combination of peanut butter and canned apple pie filling makes a deliciously rich dessert bound to please those who like an elegantly flavored pie.

Another summer tested treat especially designed for dinner guests is the Lemon Taffy Chiffon Pie. The crust of this pie requires no baking since it's made of flaked coconut and melted butter. The filling uses unflavored gelatin fluffed with egg yolks and beaten whites, then smoothed out to a luscious texture with whipped cream. This pie is a pretty dessert that can add a seasonal beauty to company or Sunday menus.

TOFFEE CHIFFON PIE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 1/2 cup cold water
 3 eggs, separated
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup finely chopped Toffee candy bars
 1/4 cup granulated sugar
 1 envelope (2 ounce) whipped dessert topping
 1 (9-inch) baked pastry or favorite crumb pie shell

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks slightly. Add one cup milk, brown sugar, salt, stir. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture coats spoon.

Add softened gelatin; stir until it melts. Blend in vanilla and three-fourths cup candy bits. Chill until mixture starts to "set."

Beat egg whites until frothy; add sugar gradually, continue heating until stiff and glossy. Fold into gelatin mixture.

Prepare dessert topping as directed on package using remaining half-cup milk. Fold into gelatin mix. Pour into chilled crust. Sprinkle top with remaining quarter-cup candy bits. Chill until firm.

APPLE SAUCE APRICOT FLAN

1 package cook-type vanilla pudding
 1/2 cup finely chopped dried apricots
 3 cups canned apple sauce
 Sugar, to taste
 1/2 cup slivered almonds
 1 package (13-1/2 oz.) cookie mix
 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Prepare pudding according to package directions. Cool.

In a saucepan combine apricots and apple sauce. Simmer until mixture is thick. Stir in sugar to taste and slivered almonds. Cool.

Prepare cookie mix according to package directions for rolled cookies. With the fingers press one half of the dough evenly over the bottom and sides of an ungreased 10 inch fluted flan pan. Press remaining dough into a 9 inch circle on a cookie sheet and cut dough into eight wedges. Separate wedges slightly. Bake in a preheated, 350-degree oven for 10 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool.

Spread pudding into flan shell. Top with apple sauce mixture. Slide cookie wedges sideways into apple sauce mixture. Decorate center and cookie wing top edges with whipped cream. Chill until ready to serve.

PEANUT CRUNCH APPLE PIE

1/2 cup chunk style peanut butter
 1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
 1/2 cup light brown sugar
 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 No. 2 cans (2 cups each) apple pie filling
 1 10-inch unbaked pastry shell

Blend peanut butter, butter and brown sugar into flour and salt until mixture is crumbly. Spoon apple pie filling into unbaked crust; sprinkle peanut butter mixture over pie filling. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until filling is hot and pastry browned.

LEMON TAFFY CHIFFON PIE

1/4 cup butter, melted
 2 cups flaked coconut
 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
 1/2 cup sugar, divided
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3/4 cup water
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1/4 cup molasses
 4 eggs, separated
 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, divided
 Nutmeg

Combine melted butter and coconut. Press on bottom and sides of a nine-inch pie plate. Chill until firm. Mix together gelatin, fourth-cup of sugar, salt and egg yolks; blend well. Cook over in a saucepan. Beat together water, lemon juice, molasses and egg yolks; add to the gelatin mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved, about four minutes. Remove from heat; stir in lemon rind. Fold into sweet potato mixture; then fold in lemon extract and half-cup cream, whipped until stiff. Pour into crust and chill until firm. Garnish with remaining whipped cream and pecans.

Lady Chatter

not dry. Gradually add remaining fourth-cup sugar; beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture and half the whipped cream. Turn into the chilled coconut shell and chill several hours until firm. Garnish with remaining whipped cream and sprinkle with nutmeg.

SWEET POTATO CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon ginger
 1 cup maple syrup or maple flavored syrup
 3 eggs
 1 cup sieved canned sweet potatoes
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract (optional)
 1 cup whipping cream
 Baked 9-inch pastry shell, or crumb crust
 Pecan halves

Mix gelatin, salt, spices, maple syrup and slightly beaten egg yolks; blend well. Cook over low heat until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add sweet potatoes. Chill until partially thickened. Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually adding sugar. Fold into sweet potato mixture; then fold in lemon extract and half-cup cream, whipped until stiff. Pour into crust and chill until firm. Garnish with remaining whipped cream and pecans.

Dream Dessert Designed for Dieters

There's no need to feel forlorn over giving up rich sweets for dessert. Not today with such cooking ingredients as a non-dairy powdered creamer and calorie-free sweeteners available, making it possible for dieters to enjoy all sorts of tempting treats. These desserts have only a fraction of their usual calorie count.

CALORIE COUNTDOWN

One such dessert is the luscious, velvety-smooth Spanish Cream served with a deliciously sweet fruit sauce. Both the cream and the sauce recipes are calorie trimmed. Rich-tasting instant powdered creamer (non-dairy) gives the handsome dessert its velvety texture and creamy richness. A liquid non-caloric and natural tasting sweetener is used in both the molded dessert and its fruit sauce.

The Cherry-Berry Sauce uses both canned red sour cherries (be sure they are water-packed) and a cup of sliced fresh strawberries. If frozen strawberries are used instead, be sure they are the kind that's packed without sugar. These may be difficult to find in some localities, but they are becoming more and more common at frozen food counters.

Of course, the lucky homemaker who "grows her own" can freeze her own without sugar for some wonderful eating throughout the off-seasons of the year.

SPANISH CREAM

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 1/2 cup cold water
 1 1/2 cups non-dairy powdered creamer

CHERRY-BERRY SAUCE

1 can (1-pound) red sour cherries
 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1 tablespoon sweetener solution

Soften gelatin in cold water. In top of double boiler combine powdered creamer, egg yolks, water and sweetener. Cook, stirring constantly, over simmering water, only until mixture coats spoon, about 8 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add softened gelatin and vanilla, stirring to dissolve gelatin. Refrigerate until mixture begins to thicken.

Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form; fold into custard. Spoon into lightly oiled six-cup mold; chill until set.

Unmold and serve with Cherry-Berry Sauce. Recipe makes eight servings, each 136 calories.

1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 cup sliced strawberries
 2 tablespoons cherry liqueur (optional)
 Drain cherries, set aside. Add cherry liquid to cornstarch in berries (and cherry liqueur, if small pan; blend in non-calorie desired), mixing well to blend. Sweetener and lemon juice. Chill before serving with Spanish Cream over medium heat, stir-ish Cream. Recipe makes eight ring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and thickens. Note: This sauce also is Pour over cherries; add straw-delicious over ice cream.

who cares

Today, when a product doesn't live up to its promise, who cares?

And when you take the trouble to express your disappointment, who cares?

Perhaps it's naive of us to expect everyone to care all the time. (We know how common it is to hear people say, "I couldn't care less.")

But we'd like to make one thing clear:

We care.

At A&P.

When you buy anything at A&P that doesn't meet your expectations, tell us. We'll do more than refund your money promptly. We'll turn around and go to work on the problem—and pursue the matter right to the source.

When a product doesn't keep its promise, we care.

And—when you take the time and trouble to tell us about it, we care. All the way to the top.

In fact, if you have any comments on any product we sell—we welcome you to write the top. We mean it. Write to:

Prospects for Peace Brighter Between Loops

Rozelle Confirms NFL, AFL Have Had Secret Discussions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Prospects for peace between pro football's feuding major leagues appeared brighter today despite the interjection of two big names — Green Bay's Paul Hornung and San Diego's Paul Lowe — into the simmering power struggle.

The peace offensive picked up steam Tuesday when Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, confirmed earlier reports of secret meetings between NFL and American Football League club owners.

Although Rozelle insisted that no progress had been made in the talks, his admission of their existence lent some credence to speculation that an end to hostilities, a common draft and eventual inter-league play are in sight.

Deny Reports
Meanwhile, Hornung, the New York Jets of the American League and the NFL champion Packers are busy denying a published report of the Green Bay halfback's alleged defection to the AFL club and Lowe, the AFL's rushing king last season, was adding his name to a mushrooming list of stars involved in the player-raid controversy that has set the two leagues at each other's throat.

Other developments included the signing of Ernie Ladd, who helped touch off the talent war by playing out his option at San Diego last year, by Houston of the AFL and the Washington

Marion Star Chosen in Draft

Chisox Pick Frailing

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Wisconsin baseball players were chosen Tuesday in the major leagues annual free agent draft.

The Chicago White Sox tapped pitcher James Magnuson of Oshkosh State for their Class AAA farm club at Indianapolis in the Pacific Coast League.

The Sox also chose hurler Ken Frailing of Marion High School for their Class AA club at Evansville, Ind., in the Southern League.

Shortstop Gerald Merlet of Beloit Wis., was picked by the Washington Senators for their Class AA team at York, Pa., in the Eastern League.

Frailing, whose team is playing in the Wisconsin prep tourney finals this weekend, was considered one of the top prospects in the state's high school circles. He has a 12-0 record with only two earned runs allowed in 74 innings.

The Red and White takes a 15-1 record into its first state meet and all of the victories have been in succession. The opening loss to Oshkosh was avenged in district play.

Although no official announcement has been made of next year's teaching assignments, Neenah will go on a 6-3 system and Braun is slated to teach at a junior high school. The junior high teachers will be associated with the high school.

Best Teams Grouped in Same Bracket

EAU CLAIRE (AP) — The four teams with the best records are bunched in the same bracket Thursday in the Wisconsin high school baseball championship.

Unbeaten Marion paced by pitching sensation Ken Frailing will try to stop the 12 game winning streak of Sun Prairie in the first night game. A pair of unbeaten teams Neenah and Wisconsin Rapids will collide in the other night affair.

Neenah boasts a 15-game winning string after losing its opener. Marion the only unbeaten team in the field is 15-0.

Superior only 1965 finalist to return to the eight-team championships, has the best record in the upper bracket at 14-3.

Face Fond du Lac
The Spartans face Fond du Lac in the opening game Thursday afternoon. Eau Claire Memorial, state champion five times in the past nine years, is pitted against Wilmot in the other afternoon encounter.

The semifinal game will be Friday night with the championship battle set for Saturday afternoon.

All eight finalists boast sparkling pitching. Wisconsin Rapids also has six men hitting over 300 and Marion can match that total.

Importance Of Winning Emphasized

BY GEORGE MANKOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — "To win and be first regardless of what we do" was emphasized by Green Bay Packer Coach and General Manager Vince Lombardi in his address at the third annual National 1,000 Yard Club Foundation dinner at Sabre Lanes Tuesday night.

Lombardi was a last-minute substitute for NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, the scheduled main speaker, who wired that he was unable to attend presumably because of the pressing business, so widely publicized the last several days. Rozelle said he would be on hand next year.

The coach of the world champions made no reference to the proposed merger with the American Football League, the Hornung story Gogolak or other hot news but rather repeated much of the talk he gave at the initial foundation dinner two years ago, when he also was the featured speaker.

Lombardi paid a brief tribute to the 1,000-yard club members present, pointing out that in the 46-year history of the National Football League only 11 have gained 1,000 yards and no one has achieved the goal since Dick Bass did it in 1962.

He declared that these men are "The heart of what football is."

Foxes Gain Split On Abarbanel's 4-Hit Hurling, 7-1

Fox Cities Club Retains 1 1/2-Game Lead, Duels Quincy in 2 Tonight

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Apparently undaunted when their last-inning rally fell just one run short in the first game of a two-night double bill at Goodland Field Tuesday, the Fox Cities Foxes, riding the strong left arm of Mickey Abarbanel, off-set the 5-4 setback with a convincing 7-1 triumph over the Quincy Cubs.

The Midwest League leading Foxes needed the split to maintain its 1 1/2 game lead over runnerup Burlington which split a pair with Dubuque last night. Wisconsin Rapids the victim of Jesse Higgins no-hitter, dropped both games to Decatur to fall to third place, three games behind the pace.

With righthander Steve Koker (4-1) and Gerry Nyman (0-1) ready for starting pitching chores, the Foxes will entertain Quincy in another two-nighter today, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Abarbanel was superb yesterday, striking out 12 and walking only two, but Foxes' hurlers Greg Bennett and Willie Hooker were hit hard in the opener. An Asbury Park, N.J. native the 20 year old Abarbanel picked up his sixth victory of the season against a single setback. The flame-throwing curve balling southpaw boosted his season whiff total to 88 and lowered his earned average to 1.73 with last night's performance.

Nearly Escaped
The Foxes nearly escaped with a sweep, but Quincy carrying a 5-2 lead into the bottom of the seventh stifled the rally just in time.

Lowe Says He Has Received Feelers From the NFL

SAN DIEGO Calif. (AP) — Paul Lowe of the San Diego Chargers, the all-time rushing leader of the American Football League, has disclosed feelers tained by the Vikings from the rival National Football League.

Lowe, who has not signed a 1966 contract with the Chargers, declined to identify the NFL team Monday.

"I was contacted by a couple of people some time ago," Lowe said. He said that it was about the time Gogolak signed.

No Answers Are Given on Key Issues

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Though Tuesday night's 1,000-Yard Club Foundation banquet failed to shed any illumination on the pressing questions all professional football fans want answered, it did provide a solid program of entertainment.

There was no answer as to whether the National and American Football Leagues are near a settlement of their "hot" war that could damage or destroy the very sport that was being honored by the unique foundation for the third straight year.

Anticipation was high about what the scheduled appearance of main speaker Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, might reveal. But Rozelle was not on hand and Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi filled in — giving the main banquet address for the second time in three years.

"Pressing Business"
Master of ceremonies Chris Schenkel said Rozelle couldn't make it because he had "pressing business going on."

Lombardi avoided any mention of the interleague feud during his address, and in an informal pre-dinner press conference he was noncommittal. Vince said that the only place any announcement or opinion on such a matter should come from is the league office.

Everybody, too, was con-

Huggins Hurls Midwest Loop's Third No-Hitter

Decatur Ace Checks Wisconsin Rapids in Doubleheader Sweep

WISCONSIN RAPIDS Wis. (AP) — Southpaw Jesse Huggins of Decatur hurled a seven-inning no-hitter against Wisconsin Rapids Tuesday night in the second game of a doubleheader as Decatur took a pair 5-1 and 1-0.

Huggins walked one and struck out 10 in the Midwest League contest. Huggins is property of the San Francisco Giants.

Huggins' no-hitter was the third in the league this season. Quad Cities' Vern Geisbert hurled a no-hit gem against the Foxes and Fox Cities' southpaw Mickey Abarbanel checked Wisconsin Rapids without a hit.

Burlington squeaked by Dubuque 1-0 in its opener but dropped a 3-2 nightcap verdict to remain just 1 and one half games off the Midwest League pace of the leading Fox Cities Foxes.

Quad Cities climbed into fourth place with a sweep of a doubleheader over Cedar Rapids, 6-3 and 8-1. Waterloo downed Clinton twice, 3-2 and 1-0.

Frank Robinson Cracks Four Hits as Orioles Edge Nats

Baltimore Within Percentage Points of Lead; Chisox Lose

By MURRAY CHASS, Associated Press Sports Writer — This is Frank Robinson's first year in the American League, and already he's starting a second season.

The Baltimore slugger began the second week of his new season Tuesday night, driving in the winning run with his fourth hit of the game as the Orioles edged Washington 6-5 in 12 innings.

Robinson, acquired from Cincinnati in baseball's biggest winter deal, began his first year in the AL explosively, getting nearly as many hits as outs and rocketing to a .474 average by April 29. But one month and a steady drop later, Robinson was hitting .308.

Pulled Muscle — A shoulder injury and a pulled muscle in his right leg were believed at least partly responsible for the slide, so Robinson was given a rest.

Now that he's returned to the line-up, it's as if he's starting Mullen's two-run single. Andy Etchebarren tripped in one run.

The 30-year-old right fielder scored another before Robson out the second game of a season singled in the winning run doubleheader May 30, then hit with the bases loaded only twice the next day and pinch hit the day after that. He Pepton homered in the fifth before getting back into fulltime past Cleveland. Richardson addition, and now his record reads a pair of clutch hits in sup-symbols that of the first few of Fritz Peterson, who stopped Cleveland on five hits.

In his last 25 times at bat, Max Alvis homered for the Indians.

Willie Horton tripled in the seventh inning and scored on Bill Freehan's sacrifice fly, breaking a 1-1 tie for Detroit. Mickey Lolich and two Tiger relievers combined for a three-hitter, one of the hits being Tony Conigliaro's homer.

California scored two un-earned runs in the seventh with the help of three Chicago errors, two by pitcher Tommy John, then broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth on a triple by Rick Reichardt and Norm Siebern's pinch single. The run ended the White Sox' five-game winning streak.

Charles Homers — Jim Kaat allowed Kansas City only one hit in the last five innings and rapped a two-run single in the fourth that helped Minnesota pull away from the Athletics. Kansas City's lone run came on Ed Charles homer in the third.

Won Seven of Nine — In that same period, the second week of the season, the Orioles have won seven of nine games and moved edged Boston 2-1, California nipped Chicago 3-2 and Minnesota whipped Kansas City 6-1.

The Orioles' latest victory came on a three-run rally in the 12th that wiped out a 5-3 lead Washington gained in the top half of the inning on Ken McLine-up, it's as if he's starting Mullen's two-run single. Andy Etchebarren tripped in one run.

'Alma' Smashes at Major Crisis Havana, Heads for In NATO Talks Gulf and Key West Is Staved Off

Storm May Have Hurt Crops, Damaged Economy in Cuba Issue of French Troops in Germany Stays in Discussions

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Alma battered the Cuban capital of Havana with 117 mile an hour winds and a deluge of rain today, then slammed into the Gulf of Mexico bound for Key West.

Unweakened in the crossing of the Cuban island, the storm clung to a north-northeast course that could take the eye close to Key West and bring the lightly populated lower Florida west coast in close range.

The storm may have dealt a damaging blow to the Cuban sugar crop—mainstay of Fidel Castro's economy—and to other crops in that food rationed nation.

Gale warning flags flew half way up the Florida mainland as the hurricane approached.

For two days, Alma had crawled at a snail's pace across the Caribbean with no outside weather forces exerting any influence on its movements.

Off Course Today, however, a high altitude cyclonic circulation over the eastern Gulf of Mexico began to affect the hurricane, speeding its forward movement and pulling it slightly off its north-northeast track, more toward a northward path.

If this continues, the Weather Bureau said, Alma might move up Florida's west coast toward the city of Fort Myers after passing very close to Key West at the bottom tip of the Florida Keys. Such a movement would bring only the outer gales of the storm to Miami.

When Alma moves off Cuba into the Florida Straits, the Weather Bureau warned, there will be a possibility of tornadoes over south Florida.

Nine Arrested In Racine on Dope Charges

RACINE (AP) — Nine men were arrested Tuesday on charges of peddling heroin and marijuana.

The operation was described by a federal official as worth $1 million a year in street level sales.

The nine, all from Racine, were charged in federal warrants with selling narcotics. At least one more man was being sought.

A citizen's tip triggered a five month investigation that led to the arrests, Police Chief Le Roy Jenkins said.

The $1 million estimate came from Charles G. Ward, Chicago district supervisor for the U.S. Treasury Department's Bureau of Narcotics.

Mass Arrests Thirteen narcotics agents, 26 Racine policemen and five sheriff's deputies participated in the mass arrests in scattered locations of the city late Tuesday.

Jenkins said a federal agent had posed as a dope pusher and made wholesale heroin purchases over a period of several months.

The purchases totaled $6,000 with the potential resale value of the narcotics placed at $64,000, Jenkins said. He said the samples purchased were 38 per cent heroin, an unusually rich ratio.

Eight of the men were employed at the same factory, authorities said.

Marijuana Sales Ward declined comment when asked if the alleged operation might be part of a narcotics network extending to other cities.

Seven of the men were charged with marijuana sales.

The nine were being held in the Racine County jail.

Charged were Simon Marquez, 32, Leonardo Valadez, 34, Eulogio Chacon, 28, Rosalio Anchando, 27, Jesse Montoya, 53, Francisco Diaz, 31, Arnolfo Perales, 33, Guadalupe San Roman, 24, and Jose Rodriguez, 22.

292 North Vietnamese Regulars Killed in 2-Day Battle in Highlands Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers all but wiped out a determined battalion of North Vietnamese regulars today after two days of bitter fighting, a military spokesman reported. He said the enemy left 292 dead strewn over a five mile battlefield in the central highlands after offering stiff resistance.

The picture given by the U.S. spokesman indicated a significant victory over the enemy troops after a weeklong lull in ground action in South Viet Nam.

The Communists hit back with a blistering mortar attack on a U.S. military advisers compound in the Mekong Delta, killing some Americans.

Politics Calmer A squadron of helicopters poured more men of the 101st Airborne Brigade into the raging fight 260 miles northeast of Saigon as South Viet Nam's political crisis took a calmer turn.

The moderate leader of the Buddhist Institute called for a halt to rioting and human sacrifices but said his followers will continue to struggle in a nonviolent spirit.

The declaration by Thien Tam Chau, chief architect of an abandoned political truce with the military junta last week, promised continued although perhaps less dangerous civil unrest as the ruling generals prepared for national elections Sept. 11.

The bitter fighting in Kontum Province began before dawn Tuesday when a North Vietnamese attack on a valley camp of the American Screaming Eagles, backfired on the Communists, breaking a weeklong lull in the ground war. The Americans struck back with planes and troops, routing the North Vietnamese unit which was estimated at 350 or more men.

Red Routes The battle flared just north of the Communist infiltration routes close to the Cambodian and Laotian borders where the U.S. 25th Infantry Division had turning encounters with North Vietnamese troops in Operation Paul Revere last month.

A U.S. spokesman said the penetration by the 101st Airborne six days ago on another search-and-destroy mission — Operation Hawthorne — provoked the North Vietnamese into the attack against the isolated artillery battery.

A U.S. military spokesman reported light casualties among the airborne battalions. But the

Major Civil Rights Groups Continue Meredith's March

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Five big civil rights commands gathered north of here today to continue the crusade on foot through Mississippi attempted by James Meredith.

While Negroes marshaled their forces, hospital officials in Memphis indicated Meredith might be released today.

There was no word on where Meredith would go, if released.

The heads of several civil rights groups picked up Meredith's march Tuesday from the point where Meredith was wounded and one was shoved to the ground when highway patrolmen ordered them onto the shoulder of the highway.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. race where the Rev. Clinton James O. Eastland and four Collier of Philadelphia a Negro Democratic congressmen held on the Freedom Democratic primary victories today in re party ticket got enough votes to threaten to throw the decision into a runoff as counting resumed today. A runoff would match the two top candidates.

Although Negro registration had risen to almost 20 per cent of the estimated 675,000 total, a first primary contest trailed Negro-backed ticket got only about 12 per cent of the votes in Tuesday's primary balloting.

Eastland scored a 41 victory over two opponents in the only statewide race while veteran Reps. Thomas Abernethy, James Whitten, John Bell Williams and William Colmer also won handily.

Question Unsettled One question unsettled from the Democratic primaries was whether State Sen. G. V. Montgomery of Meridian had won a first primary victory in the 4th District. Attorney J. O. Hollis of Carthage was second in the four-way race.

Biggest influence of the Negro was in the 4th District voting was in the 4th District turnout on a percentage basis.

Reagan, Brown Win in California

By BILL BOYARSKY SAN FRANCISCO (AP)

Ronald Reagan ran away with the Republican nomination for governor of California today and pledged to unite the party for a November challenge to Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bid for a third term.

Reagan's overwhelming defeat of former San Francisco mayor George Christopher — and Los Angeles mayor Samuel W. Yorty's strong showing — prompted the governor to admit that he's got a tough fight ahead.

Never before in California history has a Democratic governor won a third term. Brown is the first Democrat in more than 100 years to serve two terms.

First Attempt Reagan, the youthful-looking 55-year-old television and movie star, moved to the front of his 31 Arnoldo Perales, 33, Guadalupe San Roman, 24, and Jose Rodriguez, 22.

Brown, whose aides had predicted an easy win over Yorty, saw the Los Angeles mayor accumulate a heavy vote in populous Southern California. But the governor defeated Yorty by a comfortable margin.

That's where Reagan piled up a massive margin against Christopher Brown, however, will take a Democratic registration edge of slightly more than 32 with him into the runoff.

This was the vote Republican — with 21,185 of 30,586 precincts reported. Brown 9,642, Yorty 684,737.

Support Reagan As the vote mounted against him, Christopher stepped before his followers at campaign headquarters in San

Shroud Malfunction Traced To Error in ATDA Fastening

Docking Try Cancelled Because Covering Held in Place by Tape

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Someone taped four separation devices to a protective shroud instead of fastening them firmly to disconnect plugs. It was a human error that cost the Gemini 9 astronauts a chance to dock with their target satellite.

Here is an anatomy of that error:
The background:
The satellite, called ATDA for augmented target docking adapter, was launched a week ago today. There was an indication that perhaps a shroud covering the docking collar on the ATDA had not jetisoned.

Gemini 9 astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, stalled two days by a guidance problem, took off in pursuit of the satellite Friday. When they caught it, they found that indeed the 17-inch spun glass shroud was still in place.

Started to Separate
But it had started the separation process and its two clamshell halves were parted. Stafford radioed that it looked like an "angry alligator," a description that will live long in the annals of space.

With the docking collar covered, the astronauts had to abandon the linkup attempt. They went on to conduct different types of rendezvous with the ATDA and to Cernan's record space walk.

The quick look:
Stafford told ground stations that the shroud appeared to be hung up by four bundles of electrical wires and also said it appeared that small lanyards might not have been connected properly. Cernan snapped several close-in pictures of the shroud.

The lanyards, about the size of a six-inch-long soda straw, were designed to be hooked to disconnect plugs and to yank them out during the separation sequence, which is triggered by firing explosive bolts.

Joined to Wires
The four plugs were joined to bundles of wires which provided a power relay for the separation sequence. With the lanyards not connected, they could not pull out the plugs and the shroud hung up on the wires.

The official report:
With Stafford's information, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration ran back through the history of the shroud and learned some interesting things.

It did not report the whole story, but a vague statement admitted that someone erred. The statement, released Tuesday several hours after some news media carried some facts about the situation, said:

"An error in the separation procedure prior to launch was the cause of the ATDA shroud separation malfunction. The written procedures used by technicians at Cape Kennedy to ready the ATDA for flight were found to be insufficiently detailed to insure proper installation of lanyards attached to shroud separation mechanisms. As a result one end of the lanyards was not properly secured."

Price Increases Asked to Boost Milk Supply

45 Cents Suggested By Economist for Producer Federation

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — An economist suggested Tuesday an across-the-board increase of 45 cents per hundredweight in class one fluid milk prices to stimulate milk production and avert a potential shortage.

Judson P. Mason, director of the economics division of the National Milk Producers Federation at Washington, said the nation faced the possibility of a long run milk shortage because of a decreasing number of dairy cattle and increasing demand. Mason was one of 18 witnesses who testified at the first session of a two-day emergency hearing held by the U.S. Agriculture Department for 34 market areas in the Midwest and South. It is one of four hearings being held throughout the nation this week.

The hearings were scheduled at the request of dairy farmer co-operatives, who seek emergency action to avoid what they say is a present or potential shortage of milk.

Increase Unjustified

Most of the witnesses supported a 4-to-5-cent across-the-board increase. However, Robert Winton of Chicago, a food representative, and James S. Rudy of Dallas, Tex., a dairy manufacturer representative, said an across-the-board increase could not be justified in all the market areas.

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette, speaking through an assistant, said higher milk prices were necessary to stem an exodus from the farm.

"Farm income has been trailing far behind the increased cost of living," La Follette's statement said.

"More than 7,000 dairy farmers have left their farms within the past several years," he said. "This means they have sold their dairy cattle and either gone into other farming lines or have gone to city labor markets, taking what jobs they were able to get."

The government must raise prices paid to farmers in federally regulated markets to increase income and maintain production, the attorney general argued.

Dominican Leftists Attempting to Rally Protest of Election

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominican leftists are reported trying to rally support for widespread riots to protest the election of presidential candidate Joaquin Balaguer.

Informed sources said the Castillo 14th of June Movement hopes to set off the disturbances next Tuesday, seventh anniversary of the abortive 1959 invasion that gave the faction its name.

The question of contesting the results of the election has caused a rift in the Dominican Revolutionary Party (PRD) of defeated candidate Juan Bosch.

Balaguer won last week's contest with a margin of nearly a quarter million votes, but the official results have not been released and Bosch has not conceded publicly.

Youth Tells of Coed's Death

Teen-Ager Says He Choked, Strangled Pregnant Girlfriend

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A teen-ager's account of how he beat, choked and finally strangled his pregnant girl friend with a cord in a half hour of horror was relayed in court Tuesday.

The written statement of accused slayer James R. Schultz, 19, was admitted into evidence as he went on trial in Circuit Court on a charge of first-degree murder.

The statement told of Schultz striking Kathleen A. Pollworth, 19, on the head with a frying pan after he awakened in her apartment last Aug. 16.

"Honey, what are you trying to do?" he said she asked.

"Choked Her"

The statement said he held a pillow over her face, then removed it. "I choked her with my hands for about 10 minutes," it said.

The former Marquette University coed was still alive, the statement added, and Schultz held an electric extension cord around her throat for 15 more minutes.

"I was just about out of my head. I love her very much. I would never at all hurt her," the statement said.

Defense attorney Walter F. Gregorski told the jury of six men and six women, "Our defense is going to be that James Schultz was insane at the time he committed this crime."

Medicare Possible Liability

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medicare, rated as one of President Johnson's major political triumphs, could turn into a 1966 political liability if the vast health insurance plan gets off to a limping start July 1.

"The President is very much concerned over what's going to happen," reported one source familiar with the preparedness planning.

"The reaction could be bad if there is a jam in the hospitals, or inability in some areas to provide all the promised services, or a shortage of participating hospitals in the South because of noncompliance with the 'civil rights' rules," the source said.

Governor to Fight For Pollution Bill

Knowles Ready for Concessions To Insure Major Measure Passage

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON Gov. Warren P. Knowles is prepared to make some concessions to legislative Democrats on his stalled water pollution bill, but he is also prepared for a fight to the finish on an issue he regards as the most important of his first term in office.

That was the word today from sources close to the Republican state administration which has presented the most ambitious anti-pollution legislation ever offered in Wisconsin, but which ran into a stalemate with embattled Democrats who forced a long weekend recess on the issue. The Legislature will return to the Capitol Thursday, primarily to await the results of an Assembly-Senate conference committee trying to work out a settlement between the Democratic Assembly and the Republican Senate on the question.

Knowles thus far has secured a number of important political concessions, including a $3 a month, the availability of doctors.

The government has merely undertaken to pay most of the bill. Officials anticipate an increase of not more than 5 percent in hospital usage nationwide. But government spokesmen admit the bulge could be greater in some areas and that any increase would create a critical problem in the cities where medical facilities already are overloaded.

Service Not Guaranteed
The government does not guarantee a hospital bed or visiting-nurse service. Nor does it guarantee, in the case of the optional doctor-bill insurance

Under the constitution the governor has the right to summon the law-makers into special session, without regard to their own wishes.

The deadline on the water pollution question is not over essential features of the administration plan, but over administrative details. Democrats on the conference committee have refused to entertain the idea of a separate water pollution control board, and are currently insisting that the program be administered through the Department of Resource Development, some divisions of which would be detached in the process.

They also want a single administrator of the beefed up control effort, while Knowles believes that a board of three officers is preferable.

Dispute Over Wages, Hours; Protection Improved for City

ATLANTA Ga (AP) — About 500 of Atlanta's 728 firemen have gone on strike in a dispute over wages and hours.

They rejected a plea by Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. Tuesday night to return to work. Some booed him as he spoke to them in a union hall.

The city obtained an injunction from Fulton County Superior Court Judge Virlyn Moore ordering the firemen to return to work and forbidding them to resign en masse.

The injunction is directed against the Atlanta Firefighters Union, independent, formed two months ago. The firemen meet today, and union officials talk with the mayor and city officials later.

Policemen Used
The city, which has more than 500,000 within its corporate limits, improvised its overnight fire protection, spreading those firemen remaining on duty around the various stations and pressing policemen into service.

Airport officials assigned several maintenance men to duty in case of emergency. Air traffic was not disrupted.

Capt. James L. Martin, union president, said firemen remaining on their jobs were mainly superior officers, and those who have only a few months to make their pensions. They are there and that's their problem, he said.

Respect Order

Martin said the union would respect any court order but would rely on the advice of its attorneys in obeying the order obtained Tuesday night. The attorney Robert Mitchell said he didn't want to comment on the injunction because he had not seen it.

The firemen at first were asking for reduction of a 60-hour week to 56 hours. Martin said with time and one-half pay for work over 40 hours and a $100 a month raise. The firemen's present base pay is $1.55 an hour with top pay of $1.91 an hour. They have 20 days per year paid vacation, but Martin said it actually is less than this. Now, we're just asking for

Measure Too Touchy to be Passed Because of Meredith, Is Claim

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate subcommittee hearing following Meredith's shooting, Sam J. Ervin Jr. said today he does not think the ambush civil rights march shooting of James H. Meredith. Attention focused instead on a will have any effect on hearings section to make it a federal crime to interfere forcibly with anyone because of his race, color, or religion, while engaging in the exercise of his constitutional rights.

The bill also would provide federal criminal penalties for violence against civil rights workers and peaceful demonstrators, with punishment up to life imprisonment in case of fatal injuries.

Katzenbach called this part of the bill, along with sections to prohibit discrimination in the selection of state and federal jurors, absolutely essential to deal with cases like the shooting of Meredith.

However, Ervin insisted in his questioning of Katzenbach that a constitutional amendment was necessary before Congress could make acts by private citizens federal crimes.

Abhor Violence
Ervin, who expressed abhorrence of violence, said he would offer such an amendment. He urged the administration to show its fidelity to the Constitution by supporting it.

All I am trying to do, Ervin said, is to save a few remnants of the Constitution for future generations of Americans, and I might add Americans of all races.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has branded the bill's open housing section as "absolutely unconstitutional," told reporters he couldn't speculate on whether the attack on Meredith would spur action on the legislation.

But he said that if Congress adjourns by Labor Day, the Senate is unlikely to act on the open housing proposal by that time.

shorter hours and higher pay in general, he said.
William Buck, president of the International Association of Fire Fighters, AFL-CIO, said Tuesday night in New Albany, Ind., the Atlanta walkout apparatus is the first strike of fire fighters against an American city in more than 40 years. Buck also said no group of firemen had ever won a strike.
